TWO WOMEN BURNED.

Death Will Probably Result from the Explosion of a Can of Oil.

By the explosion of a can of kerosene oil, yesterday, Mrs. Annie Moresky, a young Polish bride, and Mrs. Josephine Bosiska were burned and are lying at the point of death at the Allegheny General hospital.

Mrs. Moresky was married only two days ago, and the couple went to live in Mrs. Bosiska's house, No. 1120 Sawmill alley, Allegheny. Yesterday afternoon the two women were in the kitchen and Mrs. Bosiska poured oil from a can into the stove, in which there was some fire. The can exploded and burning oil was thrown over both women. In flames they ran into the yard screaming. Neighbors came to their aid and extinguished the fire, but not before nearly all of their clothing had been burned from their bodies. They were taken to the Allegheny hospital and Mrs. Moresky's husband was notified. The hospital physicians say that both women are badly burned all over the body and cannot possibly recover.

TAFT PARTY IN AUDIENCE BEFORE POPE

Cordial Greeting and Gifts from His Holiness.

NEGOTIATIONS SATISFACTORY

Pontiff Is Confident That Friar Question Will Be Solved.

AUTOGRAPH LETTER FOR THE PRESIDENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, July 21.—The pope received Gov. Taft and the members of his party in farewell audience today at the vatican. Judge Taft and Judge Smith wore evening dress, as prescribed by etiquette; Maj. Porter was in full uniform, and Bishop O'Gorman wore ecclesiastical robes. They were received at the great door of the vatican by the Swiss guards, who rendered military honors. At the foot of the state staircase the Americans were met by Monsignor Bisleti, master of the ceremonies, who was accompanied by several other dignitaries of the papal court.

At the door of the pontificial apartments the noble guards and gendarmes rendered the customary honors, after which Gov. Taft and his companions were introduced into the presence of the pope, who welcomed them cordially. To mark his satisfaction at the success of the negotiations, the pope presented each member of Gov. Taft's party with a personal gift, inclosed in a magnificent morocco case adorned with the papal arms.

Gov. Taft got a gold goose quill of exquisite workmanship, with Pope Leo's coat of arms on the feather. Bishop O'Gorman was presented a pectoral cross set with rubies and amethysts and having a cameo center bearing the figure of the virgin surrounded with pearls.

Pope Very Cordial.

Judge Smith and Maj. Porter each received a gold jubilee medal. The pope gave Mrs. Taft an enamel reproduction of the ancient painting of Saint Ursusla, surrounded by virgins.

The Americans were ushered into the private library and so soon as the door was opened the pope went half way to meet them and greeted Gov. Taft with the greatest cordiality. The pontiff commenced the interview by saying he was most satisfied and happy at the results obtained and was confident that the negotiations would be the starting point of a complete and satisfactory solution of the question under discussion. He added that the apostolic delegate soon to be appointed would be instructed most strictly and precisely regarding carrying out the ideas determined upon between the United States and the vatican, saying:

"I will see that orders be given him as to his work, over which I will watch him personally."

Turning the conversation, the pope expressed the highest esteem for American methods of treating church matters. In fact he had more than once pointed to the United States as setting an example well worth copying.

Taft Promises Co-Operation.

Gov. Taft thanked the pope for the promptness and courtesy shown him during his visit, and promised co-operation with the apostolic delegate in executing the business on the lines agreed upon at Rome. He expressed regret at the fact that the negotiations had been made the occasion for the circulation of false and even calumnious rumors in various papers and by some telegraphic agencies, which had given rise to unfavorable comments upon the vatican.

The pope also protested against such false reports, but philosophically declared that by this time he was accustomed to that kind of misrepresentation.

The pontiff then rose with unusual activity, walked with the Americans to the opposite side of the room, and showed them the mosaic which he is sending to President Roosevelt in return for the president's present of a box containing Mr. Roosevelt's literary works. The mosaic is a copy of Corriadi's well-known picture of Pope Leo, sitting on the terrace of the vatican gardens, surveying Rome. It was made in the vatican workshops. The pope then gave Bishop O'Gorman an autograph letter to President Roosevelt.

Pope Blesses Momentoes.

Members of Gov. Taft's party asked the pope to bless several boxes of rosaries and other religious momentoes, which his holiness did most willingly, adding that his benediction was extended to all their relations and friends.

After an audience of 40 minutes, in which the conversation was carried on entirely in French, Bishop O'Gorman and Mgr. Porter translating, the pope saw the Americans to the door of the library.

Gov. Taft and his companions then called on the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Rampollo, with whom they exchanged somewhat similar courtesies. Later Gov. Taft, accompanied by Judge Smith and Capt. Strother, left Rome for Naples.

CALL IS ACCEPTED.

The Rev. G. E. T. Stevenson of Binghampton Coming to Hazelwood-Glenwood Baptist Church.

Word was received in this city last night that the Rev. George E. T. Stevenson of Binghamton, N. Y., has decided to accept a call to the recently organized Hazelwood-Glenwood Baptist church. This congregation is a branch of the Fourth Avenue church, and has been supplied for several months by pastors from various parts of the city.

The congregation is at present worshiping in a hall, but have in view the erection of a church. This will be one of the tasks facing Mr. Stevenson when he assumes charge. Mr. Stevenson has been here and looked over the field. It is expected his resignation will be tendered to his home church this week at a congregational meeting. He will likely assume his new charge the second Sunday in August. There are about 40 families connected with the new congregation.

CAPTAIN PUTNAM BRADLEE STRONG,
The Young Man Who Has Disappeared, at the Same Time as $300,000 Worth of May Yohe's Gems.

MAY YOHE FINDS HER JEWEL BOX CLEANLY LOOTED

Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Said to Be Her Loss.

ACTRESS FAINTED AT THE DISCOVERY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 21.—May Yohe's entire collection of diamond jewelry had been removed from the vault in the Knickerbocker Trust Company. When opened late this afternoon the vault was found to contain only two fans valued at about $30. About $300,000 worth of diamonds which Miss Yohe says she had deposited in the vault were missing.

Miss Yohe, with her mother, Emanuel Friend and Harris Lindsley, representing the Strong family, went to the Knickerbocker Trust Company late this afternoon. They did not reach the office of the trust company until 5 o'clock. They rode uptown in a Madison avenue car and tried to elude the curious. Miss Yohe was dressed in a blue skirt and a light silk shirt waist and wore a heavy blue veil over her face and hat. Her lace handkerchief was never long absent from her eyes. Her mother, who is more than 70 years old, sat erect in the car, her gray head held high and her eyes flashing, and when getting on and off of the car, she raised her umbrella to protect her daughter from snapshotters.

Found Two Fans and a Receipt.

When they arrived at the trust company the box was quickly opened. Miss Yohe glanced into it and then shrieking, "Oh, my God!" fell back into a chair fainting. Recovering, she arose and again looked into the box, extracting from it the two fancy fans and a receipt for dues to the Metropolitan club, amounting to $25.

This is the list of missing jewels handed to the police as setting forth the cost of her affection for Putnam Bradlee Strong:

One diamond and ruby pendant, in safe deposit in New York.

One large turquoise and diamond necklet, with turquoise and diamond pendant, in safe deposit.

One diamond and turquoise bracelet, in safe deposit.

One cluster diamond brooch, in safe deposit.

One large diamond heart, in Genoa.

One small diamond heart, in safe deposit.

One turquoise and diamond arrow, in safe deposit.

Two cluster turquoise and diamond bracelets, in safe deposit.

One diamond bracelet, in safe deposit.

One large bracelet, nine stones, in Yokohama.

One pearl and diamond bracelet, in safe deposit.

One gold chatelaine, inlaid with diamonds, with 11 pendants, in safe deposit.

One black lace fan, with tortoise shell sticks, inlaid with diamonds, in safe deposit.

Two mother of pearl fans, with white lace, in safe deposit.

Odds and ends, diamond trinkets, consisting of rings, brooches and pins, in safe deposit.

One small diamond and turquoise necklet, in safe deposit.

One diamond belt, one diamond pin, one diamond ring, three rings, diamond, ruby and sapphire, in safe deposit.

General Alarm for Arrest.

Miss Yohe, very much excited, was taken in a cab to the Sturtevant house, where she is resting. Mr. Friend called up police headquarters and asked that a general alarm for the arrest of Col. Strong be at once issued, and that he be arrested as soon as he can be found.

It was said late today that through Mr. Lindsley, Col. Strong's family have made offers to Miss Yohe's lawyer to settle the whole matter, and that the proposition is now under consideration.

Senator Mitchell's Daughter Weds.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—(Special.)—Mrs. Maggie Mitchell Helmbold, the twice-widowed daughter of Senator Mitchell of Oregon, formerly of Butler county, Pa., was married in this city at 10 o'clock this morning to Francis Hoyt Griffin, a lawyer of New York. The ceremony was performed at St. Paul's Episcopal church by the rector, the Rev. Alfred Harding. Senator Mitchell gave his daughter in marriage. The couple left the city at 11 o'clock for a trip to New Brunswick, whence they will return in the autumn and live in New York.

LEAP OF GALLANT RESCUER SAVED TWO YOUNG WOMEN

Exciting Chase After Runaway Automobile in Schenley Park Had a Fortunate Ending.

HIS AUTO WAS FASTEST

Crashing along at the rate of 40 miles an hour, two helpless girls sat in a runaway automobile in Schenley park last night, while in hot pursuit came another auto, running at top speed. The pursuer was J. R. Buchanan of Dithridge street, who had heard the screams of the girls as they sped by him like a flash in the big machine over which they had lost control. The girls were Misses Mary T. Farrell of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, and Ellen M. Burke of Ellsworth avenue.

Faster and faster the two machines flew over the smooth paths and slowly the pursuer crep up on the runaway machine. Just as it reached the main driveway, near the bridge, the gallant young fellow passed it, and as the two machines came together with a crash, he jumped and lit squarely in the runaway machine.

With his grasp on the power brake the speed was quickly reduced, and the machine finally stopped almost against the bridge. The young women, almost fainting from fright, were assisted to the the ground, and the young rescuer modestly evaded their thanks. The two machines were brought to a stop within a few inches of the bridge rail, and another second's delay in the jump would have resulted in an awful wreck.

Neither of the machines was seriously wrecked by the collision, but the young women preferred to ride home in a street car, rather than trust their lives to the machine, and the rescuer, after placing them on the car, saw that their auto was safely taken home and stabled.

PLOT AIMED AT THE LIFE OF ATTACHE

Liberty Avenue Explosion Directed at Joseph Natalie.

INMATES WERE LUCKY TO ESCAPE

Dynamite Cartridges That Failed to Explode Would Have Wrecked Building.

CAPTURE OF PLOTTERS IS EXPECTED SOON

The Liberty avenue explosion mystery is being cleared away. It is the opinion of those carrying on the investigation that it was a deliberate plot on the life of Joseph Natalie, attache of the Italian consul of this city, who was on the second floor of the flat. Had the plans of the fiend been carried into effect the entire flat over the store at No. 5102 Liberty avenue would have been blown to pieces and 19 lives would probably have been lost. It is absolutely certain that the person who placed the dynamite in the cellar, was one of the inmates of the house, or some one who had entrance to the grocery store.

The detectives are certain they have the right man under suspicion. It is believed that the plot was instigated by the Mafia or some other Italian secret society, that had a grievance against the attache of the Italian consul. The detectives were at work on the case during the day, and it is expected that arrests will follow in the next few days.

A Heartless Plot.

Early yesterday morning Detectives George W. Waggoner, James W. Eagan and Richard Kelly were detailed to make an investigation of the explosion under the grocery store of James McCann. Upon their arrival they were taken into the cellar by Police Inspector Robert Grey. They were shown just where the barrel was standing in which the powder was placed, and the barrel containing the carbon oil, on which six sticks of dynamite and a quantity of powder were found.

Joseph Burton, an expert on explosives, was sent for and at once said there was enough dynamite in the cellar to have blown the building and its inmates to pieces. He was unable to tell just where the dynamite had been bought, but it is believed that it was secured in some western city. After giving the detectives this information he took the explosives to the building of the Kirk Powder Company in Duquesne way, where it was put away until further investigation is made.

The Investigation.

In the first place, the explosives were placed in the cellar between Saturday evening and the hour the explosion occurred, shortly after 2 o'clock of Monday morning. Only three persons had entrance to the cellar. J. J. McAllister, who owns the flat and store, James McCann, the proprietor of the grocery, and three employes.

Outside of these persons, no one known to McAllister and McCann could get into the cellar. The cellar was entered through the regular door leading from the store room to the cellar. This was opened by a key.

There is not the slightest evidence that the door was forced or that the conspirator broke into the cellar. Mr. McCann was in the cellar Saturday evening and had several occasions to draw oil from the barrel on which the dynamite was placed. He said yesterday that he was absolutely sure that the explosives were

TEACHERS ENJOY INDEPENDENCE DAY WITH THE BELGIANS

They Have Their First Glimpse of Royalty at the Brussels Cathedral.

NEXT STOP AMSTERDAM

By L. W. STRAYER,
Staff Correspondent.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Brussels, July 21.—"The pomp of kings" was for the first time viewed by the teachers from Western Pennsylvania, touring Europe as the guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, in the capital of Belgium. Today is Independence day for the Belgians, and annually King Leopold goes to the cathedral as a renewal of the promises made by his father when he was elected to the throne in 1831. And it was at the cathedral that the little party of Americans had their first glimpse of a ruling monarch, though i.e other day in London they saw a child who may some day rule Great Britain. There is much in common between the laws of the two countries, both being limited monarchies, in which the monarch has less real power than that wielded by the president of the United States.

We could not see anything very remarkable in the aged King Leopold today as he entered the cathedral, surrounded by his ministers. Of course, as he passed through the streets there were cheers, as there always are in Europe when royalty appears, but it is doubtful if Leopold would stand much show for election to the throne if it were now left to the votes of the people, as it was in 1831. He is far from the most popular ruler in Europe, and it is but a few months since events pointed to a serious revolution as an end to his reign.

Still, we good Americans enjoyed the scenes today, because they were different from anything we can hope to see at home, even should the prince of Wales or the crown prince of Germany make their threatened journeys to America.

Tomorrow we will go to Amsterdam. There are many points of interest in the old Dutch capital, and the visit there will be immensely enjoyed.

MACKAY DIED IN THE MIDST OF HIS WORK

A Few Minutes Before the End He Sent a Business Cable.

FRIEND ENUMERATES HIS MANY INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 21.—The last cable dispatch ever sent by John W. Mackay, who died in London yesterday, was one in regard to the proposed Pacific cable. This dispatch was transmitted from London to New York only a few minutes before he was stricken down. It said:

COOK, N. Y.—I have read your cablegram to Ward relating to the soundings. The facts are these: The bid guaranteeing to manufacture and lay the cable from Honolulu to Manila, touching at Midway and Guam, by June next, provided we can furnish the necessary soundings, expires on the 21st inst., namely, on Monday next. Our desire has been to complete the cable as early as possible. We supposed the work could not be carried out before the end of next year, but as the contractors are able to handle the shipment of the cable quicker than we expected, it is possible to complete it by next June.

It is inexplicable to us why these soundings are withheld, when the government and the whole country are crying out for the cable. The soundings taken by the Albatross in 1891, by act of congress, to determine the practicability of laying a cable between California and Honolulu, were freely distributed by the navy department. They were given out to anyone who applied for them, and I certainly expected this slight assistance from the government after I personally explained our plans to the president last October.

We shall, of course, go on with the manufacture of the cables, but I can get no guarantee from the contractors as to time of completion unless the Nero's soundings are forthcoming, as it will be absolutely necessary to send a ship to ascertain a practicable route for the cable before it can be laid, and it certainly must be of importance to the government to have communication established as early as possible. It certainly is to the Commercial Pacific Company.

JOHN W. MACKAY.

No Interruption of Cable Work.

Mr. Cook, when asked today as to whether Mr. Mackay's death would delay the completion of the Pacific cable, said that while Mr. Mackay's death was a serious loss, yet the plans for the completion of the cable were finished some time ago, and the work would go on without interruption, and the cable would be completed and in operation by July 1, 1903, unless the government soundings are withheld from the company. Mr. Cook said:

"Mr. Mackay's cable message to me last Wednesday stated the situation very clearly in regard to these soundings. He died as a great captain of industry should die, in the midst of his work."

LONDON, July 21.—The remains of Mr. Mackay will be taken to New York for interment in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn. The exact date of the removal of the body and the arrangements for the funeral will not be decided upon until the arrival in London of his son, Clarence Mackay, who sailed from New York Saturday. Mrs. John W. Mackay is quite prostrated with grief.

Mr. Mackay's Business Interests.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Richard Dey, a close personal friend and former confidential secretary of the late John W. Mackay, in an interview, said:

"I don't suppose Mr. Mackay himself knew within $20,000,000 of what he was worth. His business was in such order, and his arrangements were so carefully made, that everything will go on just as though he were still alive. He was president of the Mackay-Bennett Cable Company, president of the Postal Telegraph Company, vice president of the new $7,000,000 sugar refinery at Yonkers, N. Y., of which Gus Spreckles is president; director of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, director of the Southern Pacific and director of the proposed railroad from Havana to Santiago, Cuba. He was one of the largest owners of the White Nob Copper Company of Mackay, Ida. He was interested with Charles D. Lane in the Wild Goose Mining Company at Nome. He was heavily interested in the Sprague Elevator and Electrical works of New York.

"In San Francisco Mr. Mackay owned half the Nevada block, the Grand opera

GEN. BROOKE HAS RETIRED FROM SERVICE

Reaching the Age Limit, the Pennsylvanian Is Resting on Laurels.

GETS LOVING CUP FROM OFFICERS

Began Distinguished Military Career as a Volunteer in the Civil War.

HE RECEIVES PRAISE FROM SECRETARY ROOT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 21.—Maj.-Gen. MacArthur today assumed command of the department of the east, relieving Maj.-Gen. John R. Brooke. Gen. Brooke was presented with a large silver loving cup by the officers of his staff.

The troops of the post were paraded and a double line of sentries was formed from Gen. Brooke's house to the wharf. Down this lane he passed, escorted by all the staff, and the 13 guns of a major general's salute were fired in his honor.

John R. Brooke was born at Brooke farm, his father's estate five miles above Philadelphia, on the Schuylkill river. His ancestors came to Pennsylvania from Yorkshire, Eng., in 1699, receiving a grant to some 700 or more acres, that has since been known as Brooke farm, from William Penn.

The Brookes were Quakers, but the father of the general, Maj. William Brooke, who served in the war of 1812, was a man of much pugnacity, brusquerie and iron determination. Gen. Brooke's mother was Margaret Rutter, daughter of David Rutter of Pine Forge works, and belonged to a family intimately connected with the earliest manufacture of iron in Pennsylvania. The general spent his early boyhood upon the farm.

Educated and Becomes a Farmer.

He attended school at Pottstown, and took a course in the military academy at West Chester. He spent some months with an uncle, who was an officer at a military post in Utah, and there his liking for a soldier's life was intensified.

On Brooke's return to his home he took charge of his father's farm and was engaged in hard work when the civil war began. He was elected captain of the militia company at Pottstown, which became Company G, of the Fourth Pennsylvania Volunteers. His was a three months' organization, and when its time expired Capt. Brooke was commissioned colonel, and organized the Fifty-third Pennsylvania volunteers for three years. Col. Brooke's regiment took a prominent part in the battles of Fair Oaks, Chickahominy, Gaines Mills, Peach Orchard, Second Bull Run, Gettysburg, Little Round Top, Chancellorsville, Spottsylvania and Petersburg, in all of which both he and his command distinguished themselves for courage, determination and cool judgment of the first order.

Enters the Regular Army.

At the close of the civil war Brooke applied for a position in the regular army. He was commissioned lieutenant colonel and assigned to Camp Floyd, N. M. Later, during the disturbances arising over the Tilden-Hayes election contest, he was ordered to New Orleans, where he remained until the close of the 14th of September riot, going from there to Fort Missoula, on the western border of Montana, and later to Fort Shaw, in the same state. It was here that he received his appointment as brigadier general, and it was from this point that he operated against the hostile Sioux during the Big Horn and Yellowstone campaign of 1876. Later, he was stationed at Omaha, and placed in charge of the department of the Platte, and upon his appointment to the post of major general, he was transferred to Chicago and placed in command of the department of the Missouri.

On the breaking out of the war with Spain, Gen. Brooke took command of the first provisional army corps, mobilized at Chickamauga, Ga., going from there to Porto Rico, where he commanded the American forces, and was afterward made military governor of the island. His next post of duty was that of military governor of Cuba, in which place he was succeeded by Gen. Leonard Wood. Returning to the United States he succeeded Gen. Wesley Merritt to the command of the department of the east, which position he held until his retirement.

The General Twice Married.

During the active service in the front in 1863 he married Miss Louisa Roberts, a member of an old Chester county family. She was one of the most noted beauties of the region, and even after a lapse of 35 years the people who remember her speak with a sigh of her beauty of face and loveliness of nature. She died in 1867 upon the birth of her second son. Both of the children of this marriage have since grown to manhood. The eldest son, himself married and a father, is a soldier and served in the Santiago campaign. The youngest son has spent recent years on a ranch in the west, but is now also connected with the army. For 19 years Gen. Brooke remained a widower, then met his second wife in New Orleans. The present Mrs. Brooke is the eldest daughter of ex-Gov. Stearns of New Hampshire. She met her future husband while wintering in the south during the disturbances over the Tilden-Hayes election contest. They were married in 1877. She is a woman of brilliant mind and great charm of manner.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—Secretary Root, in announcing the retirement of Gen. Brooke today, recited that officer's military career in outline and added:

"During his long service Gen. Brooke has exercised important military commands both in peace and war, and always with credit and honor to himself and to the country. It is a pleasure to refer to a record such as this, which would serve as an example and an inspiration to every young officer who has yet to shape his character and career in the military service."

Accepts B. Y. P. U. Secretaryship.

BOSTON, July 21.—The Rev. Walter Calley, pastor of the Tabernacle church, Bowdoin Square, has decided to accept the position of general secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, recently tendered him. Mr. Calley has presented his resignation to his church

Due Notice to Miss Democracy.

COMMITTEE ON THE SCHOOL SITE WAS ORGANIZED

Will Confer in Near Future With Trustees of the Carnegie Institute.

PARK SITE IS PROPOSED

Councilman D. F. Crawford Wants City to Economize and Use Portion of Schenley Park—Indorsed by East End Board of Trade.

The councilmanic committee, appointed to confer with the members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute on a site for the Carnegie Polytechnical school, met in the office of the city clerk in City hall last night for the purpose of organizing.

The members of the committee are: Select council, William E. Sankey, Twenty-seventh ward; Samuel J. Wainright, Jr., Eighteenth ward; W. J. Zahniser, Seventeenth ward. Common council, Gebhart Sahner, Twenty-seventh ward; D. F. Crawford, Fourteenth ward; Henry Fitzpatrick, Eleventh ward; and Daniel Bole, Nineteenth ward. All the members of the committee were present at the preliminary hearing.

Gebhart Sahner, common councilman from the Twenty-seventh ward, was elected chairman and City Clerk Edward Martin was elected secretary. Councilman Crawford asked the members of the committee if they intended looking over any sites for the proposed new school before holding a conference with the trustees of the Carnegie institute.

His question was answered a moment later by a motion, which carried, introduced by W. E. Sankey, that the secretary be instructed to notify the members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute that the councilmanic committee had met and organized and was ready to hold a joint conference with them at any time.

Joint Meeting Soon.

Secretary Martin will communicate with the trustees today, and it is probable that a joint meeting will be arranged some day next week. Several of the members of the committee of plan and scope of the Carnegie institute, the most important branch of the board of trustees of the institution, are out of the city at present, but time will be given to notify them, and they are expected to be in Pittsburgh for the first conference.

At this first joint meeting arrangements will be made for the committee in company with several of the members of the board of trustees to inspect the different sites figured on. The 11-acre site in Forbes street, opposite the Hotel Schenley, will be discussed, and also the 52-acre site in Bouquet street, optioned by the city from Mrs. Schenley.

It is also assured that another new site will be looked over. It is a plot of ground in Schenley park, lying at the northern entrance to the park, known as the Murdoch entrance. This site is the suggestion of Common Councilman D. F. Crawford, who strongly favors its selection and will urge the members of the councilmanic committee and the trustees of the Carnegie institute to acquiesce in its selection.

Crawford's Site.

In speaking of his proposed site last night, Mr. Crawford said: "It is my suggestion to set aside that part of Schenley park around the Murdoch entrance for the site for the Carnegie polytechnical school. The land appears to me to be especially adapted to the purpose, and it can be easily occupied by the city.

"Of course the matter will have to be brought up in councils in the form of resolutions, which can be easily adopted. To my mind this is the ideal site for the location of the new polytechnical school. It would, if located in this spot, be almost within a stone's throw of the Carnegie institute, which I believe is Mr. Carnegie's desire.

"Just how much ground would be required beyond Flagstaff hill is unknown. That is a matter to be decided jointly by the councilmanic committee and the trustees of the Carnegie institute. We could get enough ground here without interfering materially with the park.

"It is not my proposition to occupy all park ground. We will only need a few acres in Schenley park. We can then add to this from outside sources. There is plenty of ground which adjoins the site that can be secured. This ground does not need to cost the full amount of money the city has appropriated already toward the purchase of a site for the new school.

Will Save Money.

"In case the other members of the councilmanic committee and the members of the board of trustees of Carnegie institute agree on the selection of this site, it will save the city many thousand dollars. There will be no need of an expensive bond issue, and the city will not have to go in debt to pay for the site. There is no question that the land in Schenley park can be taken for the school. Such buildings have been erected in public parks in other cities, and there should be no exception to the rule in Pittsburgh.

"Since I have agitated the selection of the park site for the polytechnical school I have had many letters from interested parties commending my idea. These letters are very favorable to the park site, and I believe it is the only solution to the problem that at present confronts the city.

"Yes, it is true that I have received some letters protesting against the selection of the site. Some favor the 52-acre site which has already been optioned for by the city. Other persons who have written me are inclined to think Mr. Carnegie's selection of the Forbes street site is the proper place to locate the school.

Will Introduce Resolution.

"After we have meetings with the members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute it is my intention to introduce a resolution favoring the park site before the councilmanic committee and have it passed and sent to councils if possible."

The East End board of trade at their regular monthly meeting last night passed a resolution indorsing the site in Schenley park, near the Murdoch entrance for the school. The resolution was offered by T. D. Harman and was passed without debate.

Still another site from those above mentioned was suggested by several members of council for the Carnegie polytechnical school, after the councilmanic committee had organized last night. It lies between Forbes street and Woodlawn avenue, near Steel gate, to Schenley park.

This proposed site contains 34 acres, and, it is said, could be bought for $600,000. Twenty-three acres are owned by the estate of the late Senator C. L. Magee and ex-State Senator William Flinn, while the Hon. Christopher Magee owns the remaining 11 acres.

GREAT FAITH IN THE UNION

ANTHRACITE MEN BELIEVE BIG FUND WILL BE FULLY RAISED.

All Money Will Be Sent to Indianapolis to Be Distributed by Secretary Wilson—District No. 1 Gets More Than Half.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 21.—Nearly all of the delegates from district No. 1 of the United Mine Workers of America at the national convention at Indianapolis returned home tonight. Those interviewed claim to have great faith in their bituminous brethren and believe that they will all respond willingly to the call for assistance for the strikers.

At the offices of the big coal companies it was stated that men were applying for work every day, but no promise would be given when work would be started.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 1.—The coal strike fund is to be handled in Indianapolis. The officers of the United Mine Workers are confident that there will be a ready response to the appeal made by the convention, and while $500,000 a week may not be obtained they believe the weekly receipts will not fall much short.

W. B. Wilson, national secretary and treasurer, to whom all subscriptions are payable and who will distribute the funds, said today that the office force will be increased immediately so there will be no delay in handling the money.

The defense fund is to be distributed among the three anthracite districts according to their membership. Wilson says that district No. 1 will probably receive 50 per cent; No. 9, 35 per cent, and No. 7, 12 per cent. The money will be sent from Indianapolis to the secretaries of the anthracite districts and distributed by them among the strikers.

The auditing committee, Michael McTaggart and Patrick Fitzsimmons of Pennsylvania and J. J. Mossop of Ohio, are now going over the accounts of the organization for the last quarter.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 21.—A rule in contempt was issued today by Judge Jackson against John H. Gehr, an organizer from Colorado, who is said to have manifested his contempt for the court at Clarksburg yesterday. He is said to have defied arrest and to have threatened that he could be released by friends were he arrested.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., July 21.—Upon the application of the Collins colliery, Federal Judge Keller today issued attachments for the arrest of John Richardson, president of district No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, and 35 other members who participated in meetings near that mine.

Judge Guttrie of the state court issued an attachment for the arrest of 10 miners on complaint of the Kanawha & Hocking Coal Company, which held that they had violated an injunction of his court.

OLD SUNSTROKE WAS CAUSE OF SUICIDE

George Staley Shot Himself Through the Head in His Wife's Presence.

Crazed from the effects of sunstroke received over a year ago, George Staley, 43 years old, committed suicide in the presence of his wife by shooting himself under the right ear in his home at the rear of No. 65 Boggs avenue, Mt. Washington, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He and his wife were sitting in the dining room and before she could realize what he was about to do he drew a revolver from his pocket and shot himself. He immediately became unconscious and several physicians were summoned. The shot was fatal and in spite of their efforts he died two hours afterward. He was a carpenter by trade, but for the last three years had been working as a collector for the Powers Supply Company at No. 602 Grant street.

Staley had often threatened his life. He has been more or less demented since last summer and no attention was paid to his threats to destroy himself. Sunday he was uneasy about a house he was building and walked about during the day complaining. He was erecting the house himself and Messrs. Miller had failed to supply the slate for the roof, which greatly annoyed him. Saturday afternoon he had evidently contemplated his rash act, for he bought two ounces of carbolic acid at Joseph Fleming's drug store. He had this in his pocket when he shot himself.

THE WEATHER.

Warmer.

The temperature yesterday was quite different from any that has prevailed for two weeks. There was a breeze all day long and the maximum state of the thermometer was 73 degrees at 2 p. m. The minimum was 67 degrees at 4 a. m. Tomorrow, according to the Washington official forecast, the weather will be fair and warmer. It was very hot in the northwest yesterday, the mercury reaching 92 degrees at Helena, Mont., and Salt Lake City.

The Gazette's weather service thermometer at Kaufmann's corner registered as follows yestrday:

SCHWAB'S WORD MAKES THE TUBE PLANT CERTAIN

Telegraphed That Steel Corporation Would Get Rest of the Site.

CITIZENS RAISING $20,000

Already About $16,000 of That Amount Has Been Subscribed. Councils Rush Vacating Ordinances.

The business and professional men of McKeesport held a mass meeting last night and subscribed $15,700 of $20,000 which is said to be necessary to bring an investment of $10,000,000 in new works for the National Tube Company to McKeesport. It is expected that the rest of the amount will be pledged early this morning. In the deals which the citizens' committee, headed by President James Evans of the National Bank of McKeesport, made the purchase price of property was $70,000 above the price which the United States Steel Corporation was willing to pay. The reason of this was that the Diamond Lumber Company and the McKeesport Machine Company held out for prices for their property above the ratio of the other options.

Last night Mr. Evans received an answer to a telegram to President Charles M. Schwab of the Steel Corporation, in which the corporation president declared the company would settle with the two concerns. Mr. Evans has said since last Saturday that this would be done by the Steel Corporation.

However, the meeting was held to make up a deficiency of $20,000. Incidentaly Chairman Evans took occasion to denounce the attitude of Mayor Robert J. Black of McKeesport. Mr. Evans said:

"I will say with positiveness and with the assurance of the truth of my statements that the actions of our mayor during the recent strike in McKeesport were such in effect that under ordinary circumstances the city could not recover from them in 40 years." He went on to allude to the attitude of President Schwab in relation to Mayor Black as one of righteous indignation.

A resolution was presented to both branches of McKeesport council last night, and also to the board of school controllers, doing away with all streets and alleys and all city or school property within the Bowery districts to be used for the tube works extension. Besides the streets and alleys, the resolution advocates that the city abandon the garbage furnace and the Riverside school property, all of which will be included in the site for the new tube works. The resolutions were unanimously passed last night, and an ordinance will be rushed through councils at their next meeting.

The new tube plant will cost $8,500,000, and, together with improvements and rebuilding of the old plant of the National Tube Company, the outlay in money will be about $10,000,000.

A. S. OCHS SECURES THE PUBLIC LEDGER

Purchase Price Believed to Be in the Neighborhood of the $2,250,000. Owns Three Other Papers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The Philadelphia Public Ledger was today purchased by Adolph S. Ochs from George W. Childs-Drexel and the Drexel estate, and possession was at once given Mr. Ochs. The purchase includes all the Public Ledger estate, comprising about half a block of improved property on Chestnut and Sixth streets, facing Independence hall. The price paid is not made public, but it is stated on good authority that over $2,250,000 are involved in the transaction.

A substantial interest has been acquired by James M. Beck of Philadelphia, who represented the purchaser in the negotiations.

The new owner says there will be no radical changes in the appearance or policy of the Public Ledger. Mr. Ochs, who is the principal owner of the New York Times, Philadelphia Times and Chattanooga Times, when asked if the Philadelphia Times, which is now being successfully conduced by his brother, George W. Ochs, is to be consolidated with the Public Ledger, replied:

"Not at present; perhaps not at all."

OIL FIRE IS OUT.

Nine Boilers Used at Jennings and the Flames Are Smothered With Steam.

JENNINGS, LA., July 21.—The oil well fire was extinguished this afternoon by the use of steam and without the aid of chemicals.

Nine boilers of large capacity connected with two lines of four-inch pipe were set in the field to the northeast of the burning well. One of the lines was stationary and the other movable, so as to follow the flames, and a man was stationed at each boiler to keep the steam pressure up to 125 pounds. It is estimated the combined boilers gave a 225 horse power force.

Two four-inch water lines were laid from the north, with four two-inch connections and 50 feet of hose on each connection and were so arranged that the flames could be covered from the east, north and northwest.

One of the pumps on the Jennings-Heywood oil syndicate well was used to force water and the other to force chemicals. The steam did the work, extinguishing the flames which have been raging for a week.

FOR YOUR WIFE'S SAKE

And for Your Own Sake, You Should Own an Angelus.

Probably your wife does not have time to play the piano nowadays as she did when she was a girl. No doubt her household and social duties do not permit of the practice necessary to the rendering of perfect music, and although she is very fond of music she is obliged to sacrifice this pleasure for the present. Chances are that she misses the music of her piano more than any other single thing associated with her early life.

This condition of affairs can be overcome very easily. Purchase an Angelus. Not only will it bring back the musical delights of her girlhood, but it will enable YOU to play the same pieces—and any others that may please your fancy. The significance of this is that the Angelus is the one piano player which enables the person operating it to play the piano with all the shading and coloring characteristic of the playing of the most accomplished pianist—such playing, in fact, as ordinarily requires years of patient practice to attain. The musical compositions of the entire world can be played on your piano if you have an Angelus. These include the great orchestral pieces as well as those originally written for the piano. The Angelus is absolutely the only piano player capable of this, for it is the only one that has an orchestral attachment.

Briefly summed up, the Angelus is the music marvel of the age. It is simplicity itself, and as any person can play the Angelus there is no reason why one of these splendid devices should not be in every household where music is appreciated. We wish you would come in and hear the Angelus, or write for a catalogue descriptive of it.

SHOT LIKE GOEBEL FROM OPEN WINDOW

ONE MORE KENTUCKY VICTIM OF A RELENTLESS FEUD.

Murderer Concealed Himself in Courthouse, Whence Shot Was Fired—Vendetta Grew Out of a Political Contest. Philippine Soldier Shot.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JACKSON, KY., July 21.—James Cockrill, town marshal, and a member of the faction of the Cardwells, which is continuing a feud of many years standing with the Hargises, was shot and mortally wounded in the streets shortly after 1 o'clock today.

The murderer hid in the circuit court room on the second floor of the courthouse and fired at Cockrill from a distance of some 50 yards. Five of the six shots fired took effect. Cockrill was borne to a neighboring drugstore and thence was taken to the train and brought to a Lexington hospital. He was accompanied by his brother and a number of relatives, who tonight swear vengeance on the Hargises. He was met at Lexington by his cousin, ex-Congressman Fitzpatrick.

Surgeons entertain but little hope for Cockrill's recovery. One bullet pierced his throat, two others shattered his right arm, while the other two penetrated the body.

It is said the key to the circuit court room here, from which the shots were fired, are in possession of a Hargis man.

The feud which is the cause of today's assassination dates back about 10 years to a political contest in which Jerre Cardwell was opposed by John G. Hargis. Cardwell was defeated, and subsequently, while Cardwell was a railroad detective, he engaged in a pistol duel with Hargis. The scene was the crowded car of a moving train. Hargis was killed and Cardwell received two wounds.

The feud has slumbered along from time to time until last February Ben Hargis and Tom Cockrill, a brother of Jim Cockrill, engaged in a controversy over an election contest and both men drew their revolvers. Hargis was killed and Cockrill wounded, but recovered. Some months afterward Dr. D. D. Cox, a guardian of the Cockrill boys, was shot down at the foot of his office steps.

During a fight last night, Benton Blanton, formerly a soldier in the Philippines, was fatally shot, and Elijah Coldivan was killed. The fight started between Blanton and John Oaks, a farmer. Oaks, after emptying his revolver, seized Blanton's gun, shooting Blanton fatally. Coldivan was killed by a wild shot. Oaks escaped.

PLANS OF MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL COMPLETE

Will Be Submitted to Director A. H. Leslie Today and Bids Will Be Asked.

The plans and specifications for the new Municipal hospital building have been completed and are awaiting the approval of Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety. Architect Sidney F. Heckert, on the final drawings Saturday and will submit them to Director Leslie for his inspection today.

The new city infirmary will cost $850,000 and will be complete in every respect. Compartments for all contagious diseases have been provided for. About 100 smallpox patients can be cared for without any congestion. In addition to this, wards have been prepared for scarlet fever and diphtheria. In cases of emergency the hospital can be arranged for the accommodation for 300 smallpox patients.

Architect Heckert has been working on the plans for six weeks. The ordinance for the erection of the hospital was approved and passed by councils and after the plans are approved by Director Leslie and the public safety committee bids will be advertised for by the director.

An addition has been made to the hospital building to relieve the congestion of patients there. The new apartment can accommodate 80 more patients. Director Leslie expects to have the building operations commenced on the new hospital by September. He is of the opinion that the building can be completed by January.

The health department of Pittsburgh will then be able to treat the victims of contagious diseases in a proper manner and without jeopardizing the health of the municipality.

CONNECTS SEA AND LAKE.

New Railroad Planned Which Will Be Connecting Link from North to South.

BALTIMORE, July 21.—An air line from the great lakes to the South Atlantic seaboard is made possible by a deal which has been practically consummated by the Union Trust Company of this city. This company has just completed arrangements to finance the extension of the old Ohio River & Charleston railroad from the coal fields of West Virginia to Lincolnton, N. C. It has been decided also, it is understood, to extend this road northward to Ironton, O., where it will connect with the Detroit Southern. Samuel Hunt, president of the latter road, is also president of the Ohio River & Charleston, which was recently taken over by a new company, known as the South & Western.

At Lincolnton the road will connect with the Seaboard Air Line, with which company close agreements for the interchange of traffic have been made. The line will be the shortest from the West Virginia coal fields to the sea, and if the extension to Ironton is built, it will give the Seaboard an independent and short route to the great lakes.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED.

Ohio Man Found Dead and $300 Missing from His House.

AKRON, O., July 21.—(Special.)—The town of Montrose is considerably worked up over what promises to be a murder mystery. Saturday Clarence Davis of Montrose, a bachelor farmer, was found hanging in his barn by a pair of lines attached to his neck.

On his face and body there were bruises and scratches and the disappearance from his house of over $300, makes it seem that murder is probable. Coroner Leberman is investigating the case.

ROME, July 21.—At a meeting of the Congregation Propaganda Fide today it was decided that the Rev. James J. Keane, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Minneapolis, Minn., be appointed bishop of the diocese of Cheyenne, Wyo.

ROOT'S FIRST DRIVE BEHIND THE ARMY MULE

Soaked and Scorched by Virginia Weather, but He Liked It.

REACHED CAMP TOO SOON

Being Unexpected, There Was No Guard Out to Receive the Distinguished Party, and the Salute Fired Was Tardy.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 21.—It was after midnight Sunday when a dusty army wagon, drawn by four tired mules, drew up at the Arlington hotel. Elihu Root, secretary of war, stepped to the sidewalk and carefully straightened the kinks in his body given to him by the joggies of an 80-mile drive over Virginia roads to and from the camp of the District of Columbia National guard at Leesburg, which he had visited and inspected in company with Adjt.-Gen. Corbin, Gen. Wood and Gen. Wallace.

It was Mr. Root's first experience with the army mule. He had read of it and its vagaries of disposition and heels. He had seen Fred Remington's characteristic sketches of the service "cayuse." All these things had instilled in him a desire to try an army wagon trip and induced him to discard the offer from a railroad to put a special train at his disposa

Nothing would do but an army wa on and army mules, and the three officers were invited to share the ride, which they did, and, incidentally, they shared the rain and the general discomfort which attended the journey. Relays of mules were provided, going each way.

It is 40 miles to Leesburg; so the quartet started early Sunday morning. Breakfast at a suburban hotel fortified the inner man. Then the army wagon took the road, with Gen. Corbin on the front seat. Virginia roads are good and Virginia scenery along the Potomac, which is followed for a distance, is delightful.

About noon the heat had become terrific and the mules evidently were feeling it when the first change was made. Half an hour later a long-threatened thunderstorm broke. The only part of the wagon that did not get wet was the portion of the cushions on which the occupants sat.

The driver, for some reason, had been dubbed "the Indian." He whipped the mules to a terrific pace. The past lives of the officers passed in review each time the vehicle swung around a sharp turn. The final result was that the party arrived in camp 15 minutes before they were expected and there was no guard out to receive them and no salute was fired in honor of the secretary of war until he had almost arrived at headquarters.

After luncheon, which made it necessary for the staff commissary to make requisition for more stores, the secretary and the officers inspected camp and then set out to return to Washington. The return ride was marked with several incidents, and although tiresome in length the secretary was well pleased with his experience.

WORK ON THE RIVERS.

Capt. William E. Craighill Tells What Has Been Done for Improvement of Pittsburgh Streams.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The report of Capt. William E. Craighill of the engineer corps on the progress of the work on the movable dams in the Upper Ohio river and certain rivers in West Virginia was made public today at the war department. The principal points of the report are as follows:

Dam No. 2. Delay in getting title has consumed much time, but a considerable amount of work was done in securing a navigable pass and its protection crib.

Dam No. 3. Work on lock is nearing completion and a large part of the remaining work is completed, while the timber floor is partly in place. A new contract has been entered into for dredging temporary channel. Considerable damage was done by high water and ice.

Dam No. 4. The masonry of the lock is completed. High water carried away about 850 feet of the coffer dam, which is nearing completion.

Dam No. 5. Lock masonry has been completed and plans prepared for navigable pass.

Dam No. 6. Owing to lack of funds work on this project had to be suspended, but as the last rivers and harbors bill made an appropriation to complete the project, the work will now be rushed.

Dam No. 13. The coffer dam has been completed and work is progressing on the masonry of the lock, drift chute and power house foundation.

Dam No. 18. A survey for new site has been made, test holes drilled to determine character of the river bed and negotiations practically completed for securing the necessary land. Plans are in preparation.

Capt. Craighill forwards a financial statement showing that on July 1 there was an available balance of $2,602,434 04 for the consolidated work, and that it would require $5,075,400 to complete the projects. He asks for $3,223,400 for use during the next fiscal year.

PREPARING FOR ROOSEVELT.

Highest Dignitaries of New Jersey Will Greet Him at Sea Girt.

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 21.—The visit of President Roosevelt to Camp Franklin Murphy on Thursday is being arranged for. The president, Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt will leave Oyster Bay at 6 a. m. on the Mayflower, reaching Atlantic Highlands about 11 o'clock. They will be met by Gov. Murphy, Senators Kean and Dryden, ex-Gov. Voorhees, Maj. Gen. Wanser, Brig. Gens. Campbell and Gilmore, the members of the department staff and the governor's personal aides, who will escort them to a special train which is expected to arrive here about noon.

The president, either on horseback or in the governor's carriage, will review the troops. Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt will be present in a carriage.

TIN WORKERS DIVIDED.

Lisbon Men Vote for and Sharon Men Against Wage Reduction.

LISBON, O., July 21.—(Special.)—The local lodge of the Amalgamated association has voted unanimously to accept the American Tin Plate Company's proposed reduction in wages.

SHARON, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—The South Sharon lodge of the Amalgamated association voted unanimously against the proposition of the American Tin Plate Company to reduce wages 25 per cent, so that the company can accept an order from the Standard Oil Company for 1,500,000 boxes of tin plate and keep all mills running steadily and compete with the Welsh tin.

PLOT AIMED AT LIFE OF ATTACHE

not there when he closed the store on Saturday night.

Carefully Planned.

The barrel in which the powder was found was an old one that had been empty for some time. It was a sugar barrel and, as near as can be ascertained, had been standing there for several months. While it cannot be definitely determined at this time, the storekeeper is almost certain there was no powder in it Saturday night.

The preparation for the explosion was carefully arranged. It was evidently the intention of the criminal to set the powder off in the barrel by a small fuse. This concussion would explode the dynamite on the barrel and the burning oil would have been blown through the wreckage, setting fire to everything.

To effect this explosion it would have taken many minutes and the fiend would have had ample time to escape from the place. As near as can be learned, all the regular inmates of the house were in at the time the explosion took place. Joseph Burton said that it was a mystery that the dynamite did not go off.

Miscarriage a Miracle.

He said that the slightest concussion should have discharged the dynamite.

There is positive evidence that the powder was ignited by a fuse. Near the barrel are the burned fragments of the fuse, which was not disturbed by the powder explosion. There was a quantity of burned paper about the cellar. Some were from local papers and some of the burned fragments are Italian papers.

Neither McAllister nor McCann, nor, in fact, any of the inmates of the place saw a stranger about the store during Sunday.

It is a well-known fact that Attache Natalie has been in trouble with some of his countrymen, and it has even been hinted to him that his life was endangered.

The cellar was locked up when the firemen arrived. They were compelled to force their way into the place with axes.

Attache Natalie is bitterly opposed to anarchistic societies, many of which flourish in this city and Allegheny. His life has often been threatened by members of these bands.

AN INAUGURAL SALE

Meyer Jonasson & Co. Take This Means to Christen Their Enlarged Store.

Meyer Jonasson & Co. have got possession of their new building from the contractors, and are now occupying a portion of their enlarged store. This building was the one adjoining their building, corner of Sixth avenue and Liberty street, on the Liberty street side, and was for 20 years occupied by Somers Bros. & Co. as a commission house. Doorways have been cut through so that the lower floor of the new building appears to be a part of the main structure. Rapid elevators make it easy to visit the three upper floors.

The same decoration scheme used in the old building has been carried out in the new and it is scarcely noticeable when one passes from one building into the other. The combined first floors of the two buildings are used for showing cloaks, suits, millinery, neckwear and waists. The second floor of the old establishment is devoted entirely to muslin underwear and petticoats.

Beginning yesterday and lasting until Saturday the company is holding what it calls an inaugural sale. A part of the goods placed on sale in honor of this event are said to have been manufactured especially for the occasion. The remainder consists of the entire stock of spring and summer merchandise which is being sold off at a reduction.

"All these changes and expansions have been made possible only through the generosity of the public," said a member of the firm yesterday. "The people of Pittsburgh have demonstrated by their ever increasing support of our endeavors that they appreciate and approve of our methods of modern merchandizing. These methods will be continued in the future as they have been in the past.

"Our rules are few and simple. They are, above all, catering to the wishes and comfort of our patrons. The selling of merchandise on its merits only. No misrepresentation tolerated and one price, and only one to a customer. We also try to handle only the latest and most advanced styles and the highest class of goods at the lowest possible manufacturers' price."

The building occupied yesterday for the first time was purchased by Meyer Jonasson & Co. about three months ago. All of this time has been taken by the contractors in fitting up the building.

OFFICER WINS BATTLE.

Auditorium Annex Policeman Kills One Alleged Hold-Up Artist and Captures Another.

CHICAGO, July 21.—In an alleged holdup early today Robert E. MacMahon, special policeman for the Auditorium Annex, killed one thief and captured another. The man taken into custody gave his name as Mack Ray and said his companion's name was Frank Murphy. He denied there had been any intention to hold up the officer.

The fight took place behind the hotel. The men were lurking in an alley, supposedly for a victim. Both men trained revolvers upon the officer, and the fight began.

BRYAN HEADED THIS WAY.

Col. Guffey's Efforts to Steer Him Away from the State Fail.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—W. J. Bryan is scheduled to speak at Allentown tomorrow night. His presence in Pennsylvania at this time will prove helpful to the Republicans.

Col. Guffey, it is said, has flagged Bryan several times when the Nebraskan pointed in this direction. The colonel impressed him with the fact that his political utterances would be harmful to party interests in this state. This time, however, Guffey's appeals have been futile.

MANY DROWNED BY A COLLISION OF STEAMBOATS

Tug Cuts Down an Excursion Vessel in Elbe River in Germany.

ABOUT SIXTY LIVES LOST

Terrible Panic Occurred and Men Fought for Safety—Ferryboat Sinks Causing the Death of 58 Harvesters.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Hamburg, Germany, July 21.—From 50 to 60 lives were lost before daylight this morning in the sinking of the excursion steamer Primus by the steam tug Hansa in the Elbe river. The Primus carried 185 passengers. She and the Hansa were approaching one another on proper sides of the stream, when the Primus suddenly swerved and attempted to cross the bow of the Hansa. The Hansa cut deep into the side of the excursion steamer and the Primus sank in a few minutes.

It is asserted that divers have already recovered 40 bodies, but as yet it is impossible to verify the death list. An attempt will be immediately made to float the vessel and when this is done it is believed a number more of bodies will be found. A large number of the survivors were injured, though not seriously.

The terrible panic that occurred on the Primus when the Hansa struck her rendered the efforts to save her passengers almost useless. Fortunately the steamer Delphin came up immediately and succeeded in saving 60 of those on board the sinking steamer, while other boats assisted in the work of rescue.

Some of the survivors furnish graphic descriptions of the awful suddenness of the disaster. According to their story the band was playing and many couples were dancing on deck when the crash of the collision came like a thunderbolt. The vessel gave a great list, her deck taking such an angle that it was impossible for the passengers to keep their feet. Those below scrambled up the companion ways, but most of the persons in the saloon were drowned. Men fought for their own safety regardless of others.

In the midst of the confusion the boilers exploded and many persons are said to have been injured by flying splinters of metal. More of the Primus passengers would have been saved by the ropes thrown from the Hansa had it not been that before those who seized the ropes could be hauled on board they were pulled off from the lines they had grasped by other persons struggling in the water, and all were drowned in the hideous confusion.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—A ferryboat, while crossing the river Volga today at Beresuiki, sank and 58 harvesters were drowned.

KIEFF, EUROPEAN RUSSIA, July 21.—Fifteen persons were drowned yesterday by a sudden in-rush of water into the basements of various houses in the lower portions of the town.

KING'S HEALTH EXCELLENT.

Edward VII. Is Gaining Strength and Wound Is Healing.

COWES, ISLE OF WIGHT, July 21.—A bulletin issued today on the condition of King Edward says:

"The king is in excellent health. He is gaining strength and the wound continues to heal satisfactorily. His majesty was unable to spend any time on deck yesterday, owing to the unfavorable weather."

It has been arranged that Emperor William will visit King Edward before the latter returns to London.

THREE TESTIFY AGAINST SANITY OF MRS. MILLER

Daughter-in-Law and Two Physicians on the Stand.

GENERAL WAS PRESENT

Husband of the Defendant in Lunacy Proceedings at Franklin Attends Examination and Will Appear as a Witness Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Franklin, Pa., July 21.—After a recess of a week the hearing in proceedings instituted by Gen. Charles Miller to determine the condition of his wife's mind was resumed this afternoon. Three witnesses were called, all of whom gave damaging testimony against Mrs. Miller. They were Dr. J. W. Leadenham of Franklin, the Miller family physician; Mrs. Mary Miller of Franklin, wife of Gen. Miller's son, Capt. C. J. S. Miller, and Dr. F. H. Johnston of Franklin, Gen. Miller's private secretary, who has also looked after the affairs of Mrs. Miller.

Gen. Miller attended the session today for the first time. He came about half an hour before the adjournment, expecting to be called, but the testimony of the other witnesses took up so much time that the calling of the general was postponed until Tuesday morning. Mrs. Miller was present at the entire session. The battle between the lawyers is being vigorously waged and continual sparring today lost considerable time.

Dr. Leadenham stated that as family physician he had an excellent opportunity to study Mrs. Miller; that he had been aware for several years that she was not of sound mind. Several years ago her condition became so bad that he suggested to Gen. Miller that his wife be given special treatment.

Nurses Were Recommended.

The family objected to her being taken to an asylum or a sanatorium and he then recommended that she be placed in charge of two nurses, which was done. Dr. Leadenham stated that his opinion as an expert was that Mrs. Miller was not mentally capable of taking care of either her property or her person.

Mrs. Mary Miller, who has been a leader in Franklin society for many years, proved to be a very interesting witness and one whom the counsel for Mrs. Miller could not confuse. She testified that for two months after her marriage to Capt. Miller they lived with Gen. and Mrs. Miller. Asked as to the conduct of Mrs. Miller toward her husband then and since, she said:

"She has always, since I have known her, exasperated Gen. Miller almost beyond endurance. She would follow him from room to room and nag him about little things and try to get him to quarrel with her and he would not do it. After she would fail to pick a quarrel with her husband she would go to a room where there is an organ and there play and sing hymns."

She said that Mrs. Miller had used language toward her the like of which she had never heard from the lips of any other woman. The witness stated that Mrs. Miller was extremely jealous of the general.

Hounded by Mrs. Miller.

"She has hardly permitted Gen. Miller to be civil and polite to women who have visited the house," said Mrs. Miller. "Since the nurses have been in the house she has said most unpleasant things to me about them in connection with Gen. Miller."

Among those of whom Mrs. Miller was jealous, according to Mrs. C. J. S. Miller, was the latter's mother, Mrs. Prentice of this city. Mrs. Miller so hounded Mrs. Prentice that the latter sought the advice of counsel. She went to the Hon. Samuel P. McCalmont, who is now one of Mrs. Miller's attorneys. Speaking of the actions of Mrs. Miller the witness said:

"She complained of the noise of the streets where she lived and we took her to my home. At that time she had a very wild expression in her eyes and was constantly picking her fingers. She picked her fingers and face until they bled. She would also tear her hair. Once when I went to see her she began to talk to me about her illness and I tried to change the subject by speaking about the weather and the flowers. She retorted that she did not like flowers or anything beautiful. She hated a finely painted carriage or anything of that kind."

Had Expensive Clothing.

Continuing, the witness said: "When she left my house she was much improved in mind and health, but when she would get alone with any member of the family she would begin to talk slanderingly of Gen. Miller. She went out driving with me a number of times and she would always complain to me of Gen. Miller's action toward Miss Shibley and Miss Gordon, the nurses."

Mrs. Miller stated that in her mind there was no question of her mother-in-law's sanity. In the cross-examination the witness stated that Mrs. Miller's every wish was gratified by her husband. She has a great many costly jewels. Among them is a piece which cost so much that Mrs. Miller always refers to it as her "farm" because it "cost as much as a farm," she says. Her wardrobe, according to the younger Mrs. Miller, is most elaborate. "She has more clothes than any other six women in Franklin combined," said the witness. Mrs. Miller told of one dress which her mother-in-law got. It was imported. Mrs. Miller got it one fall and did not wear it. The next spring she had it altered and yet she has not worn it."

The last witness was Dr. Johnston, who recited the manner in which he transacted Mrs. Miller's business. He said that she was not capable of doing any business. He testified that she gave very liberally to church missionary societies; that often she would neglect to send the money and Gen. Miller would order it sent out of his account. The witness said that often Mrs. Miller had come to him with stories of Gen. Miller's infidelity. He said that he had seen a great deal of Mrs. Miller and that he was of the opinion that she was unsound mentally.

DISBELIEVED BY QUAKERS.

Do Not Credit Pittsburgh Story That Machine Will Bolt.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—The report sent out from Pittsburgh that the Republican organization of which Recorder Brown is chairman would bolt the state ticket if the Citizens party is permitted to indorse Judge Pennypacker, is not given credence by Republican leaders here. Senator Penrose tonight said to The Gazette correspondent that he had not heard anything of the rumored intention to bolt. Penrose and Recorder George Von Bonnhorst were together last night, and the senator probably would have been informed if any trouble of this character was anticipated.

Pennypacker's resignation will be received by Gov. Stone before August 1. The judicial primaries and convention to nominate his successor will be held about September 1.

Lines Being Surveyed for Railroads in Fulton County; Two Alleged Green Goods Men Are Taken Into Custody

RAILROADS FOR FULTON COUNTY

Engineers Survey Line for Eastern Extension of Wabash.

B. & O. ALSO IN THE FIELD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 21.—Thirty-five engineers in charge of R. L. Duvall today commenced operations at Locust Grove, Fulton county, Pa., the only county in the state without a railroad. With the party are G. Frank Parsons and other former West Virginia Central railroad engineers, and their work, is is authoritatively stated, is to make a final survey for the Wabash's eastern outlet. The engineers had seven four-horse wagon-loads of supplies unloaded at Hancock station, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 14 miles south of Locust Grove, which will be the base of operations.

A force of Wabash engineers, including a number in the present corps, made a preliminary inspection of a route in Fulton county a few weeks ago, starting at Magnolia, W. Va., 30 miles east of Cumberland, where the extension of the West Virginia Central from Cumberland to Cherry Run is projected to cross the Potomac. This survey continued as far north as Everett, Pa., which is said to be on the route of the Wabash and parallels the Pennsylvania from Pittsburgh east. Another corps of engineers, said to be working in the interest of the Wabash, is making a survey from Sideling Hill east over the old West Virginia Central extension survey abandoned 10 years ago.

Fulton is the scene of great activity, a Baltimore & Ohio corps under John T. Whistler being engaged on a survey from Emmaville to Hancock, Md., while another corps is working across the northern end of the county for an extension of the East Broad Top from Shade Gap to McConnellsburg. The contract for bridge timber for this road has been let.

Howard Gould and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gould of New York are at Berkeley Springs, W. Va., six miles from the base of operations by the Wabash engineers. It is stated that an extension is in view from Cherry Run to Cumberland via Berkeley Springs and Bloomery Furnace.

Slashed His Brother.

MONONGAHELA, PA., July 21.—Chief of Police John Sarver was seriously cut last night by his brother Crawford while passing the latter's home. The slasher, it is said rushed out and cut John across the nose and in the back and arm. Crawford, another brother, is under bail for court trial for cutting Chief Sarver some time ago.

Killed by Deputy Sheriff.

SOMERSET, PA., July 21.—Robert Mauer, aged 22, of Lincoln township, was shot by Deputy Sheriff Philip Rhoads while fleeing from arrest Saturday night. The ball entered near the base of the spine. Mauer died yesterday. Rhoads drove to Stoystown and told Sheriff James B. Saylor, by telephone, what he had done.

"EVANGELINE" GIVEN AT DUQUESNE GARDEN

Rice's Merry Extravaganza Receives Tuneful Production by Stock Opera Company.

There is such wealth of bright, merry melody about this famous old musical skit, and its humor is so flavored with a spice of other days, that the fact of its presentation by Manager Conant's company of singers at the Duquesne garden this week was sufficient to bring out another large Monday night audience. Everybody was delighted and the applause was frequent, while the laughter was almost continuous. It would be treason to Edward Evergreen Rice to say that his famous and well remembered production of the skit was duplicated last night, but at the same time it is entirely fair to the Duquesne company to say that they handled both the music and the humor with commendable success. The stilted old rhyming style of the dialogue was sometimes allowed to limp in awkward fashion, and the music was not always up to the necessary sparkle, but there was enough of excellence to make the production one of the most enjoyable of the season.

"Evangeline," as everybody knows, is fairly running over with quaint and beautiful musical fancies. They start in and out of both solos and chorus and run riot through the duets and quartets. Miss Mason makes much musicality out of the role of Gabriel, while Miss Carrington's Evangeline was winsome and sweet. Her voice was in good trim and barring a break in the really beautiful ballad "My Heart," which, by the way is new, her singing evoked the applause it deserved. Mr. Drew's "Lone Fisherman" was grotesquely good and were not it like a left-handed compliment might be called the best work of the season. John J. Martin was excellent as La Blanc, showing comedy qualifications of high order. Upon his shoulders rest the largest share of the humor and he filled the bill.

Richard Harlowe, who was specially engaged for the part, Katherine, was delightfully "feminine" and insinuatingly coy. Harlowe is a great favorite with the garden patrons and fully sustains his reputation this week. George Sinclair's Capt. Dieterich is an amusing piece of Rogeresque German. Mr. Cantor and Mr. Stevens put plenty of fun into that frisky beefer, while Gus Siles is a jolly Dutch corporal. The march of the Royal Amazons in the second act was a beautiful piece of marching on the part of a bevy of shapely girls. It made a special hit and deserved the wild applause it received. The chorus and stage equipment were in keeping with the garden's high standard. "Evangeline" is both to enjoy and laugh. Beeson, Ferguson and Beeson are the Palm Garden attraction, together with the mandolin quartet.

KOCHENDOERFER GIVEN UP.

Friends Fear Mysterious Disappearance Will Never Be Solved.

John Kochendoerfer has been given up for dead by his friends and relatives, after having been mysteriously missing for more than a month. He left his wife and children in St. Augustine, Fla., on June 20. A vigorous search has been prosecuted for him in Philadelphia and Baltimore, both of which places he had announced his intention of visiting.

His wife received a letter from him, dated Philadelphia, June 20, but that is all.

The morgue attendants in both cities have been watching for a man answering his description, and the police of the whole country have been looking for him. Kochendoerfer was formerly a resident of this city, and for years lived in Wilkinsburg. Donaldson Bros., attorneys, were engaged to direct the search for him, after he had been missing for more than 10 days. So far they have secured no clue.

He was well-to-do, and his family is inclined to believe that he was robbed and murdered. On the other hand, former associates of his now with the Pittsburgh Drygoods Company believe that he committed suicide, and say that previous to his disappearance he acted strangely.

SUITS ENTERED FOR NEGLIGENCE

Trolley Line Men Charged With Responsibility for Wreck.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 21.—District Attorney Charles E. Mehard this afternoon entered criminal prosecutions against those considered responsible for the Fourth of July wreck at Edinburg on the Pennsylvania & Mahoning Valley Electric railway, which cost the lives of Joseph Darlint of this city, Carl Margolf of Trenton, N. J., and John H. Needler of Edinburg.

Motorman James Thompson and Conductor Elden E. Hill of the wrecked limited eastbound from Youngstown are charged with negligence in leaving the switch without orders when the block signal lights showed the track occupied, and for their not having proceeded with caution when they started. A charge of negligence is also made against Car Dispatcher John Wilson of Edinburg for ordering cars to proceed against the signal lights.

Wilson has been missing since the night of the wreck and the authorities have been unable to find him. Several of the motormen and conductors swore before Coroner Porter at the inquest that Wilson was intoxicated the afternoon of the wreck. The informations are entered under a special Pennsylvania statute empowering the district attorney to take this course when negligence is apparent.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—James Delaney, aged 35, a pottery kilnman, was instantly killed Sunday night by falling from a freight train at Saltsville.

SHARON, PA.—David Bailey, a cripple, was attacked with a hatchet by his brother-in-law, Amos Small, and the former is in a serious condition. Small escaped.

HARRISBURG.—Gov. Stone has appointed Taylor Bartin justice of the peace of Wilkins township, Allegheny county. The regularly elected justice in this township has not qualified.

WARREN, O.—While riding from Orangeville to Burghill on a speeder Carl Burr and Fred Mitchell, of Latimer, were struck by an Erie freight train. Burr was killed and Mitchell badly bruised.

NEWELL, W. VA.—The body of a well-dressed man was found in the Ohio river here yesterday, and the only clue to his identity was the name J. M. Zeigler, engraved on the back of a gold watch found in his pocket.

GREENVILLE, PA.—Willie Foley, aged 6, was dangerously wounded during a sham battle on the West Side. A dozen boys used revolvers and a supply of what were supposed to be blank cartridges. Foley was shot in one eye.

LATROBE, PA.—By a rear end collision on the Pennsylvania railroad, a mile east of Latrobe, last night, three engines and seven freight cars were wrecked and beneath the pile of debris are thought to be the bodies of two tramps who had been seen on one train.

MIXED PRICE CONDITIONS.

Officials of Window Glass Company Confer in Regard to Present Status.

President C. P. Cole of the Independent Glass Company was at headquarters yesterday, spending most of the day in conference with Secretary H. B. Van Cleve in relation to the mixed condition of affairs existing in the window glass trade. Mr. Cole said that the company will continue to adhere to its open market policy. He denied a report that it was proposed to enter an early conference with the workers on wages.

Through a new publication of its own the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, the largest jobber of window glass in the business, announces that an advance of 5 per cent has gone into effect and that the American Window Glass Company has advanced prices 10 per cent.

Plan to Collect Assessment.

The Pittsburgh delegation representing the miners at the special convention in Indianapolis last week spent yesterday in conference as to means of collecting the assessment of $1 a week on each member to aid the anthracite strikers. The plan decided on was to have the officers of each local co-operate with the pit committee and the check weighman to see that the assessment is collected.

GREEN GOODS MEN ARRESTED

Two Men in Jail for Alleged Attempt to Bunco a Farmer.

OFFICER WAS IMPERSONATED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, July 21.—Harry Reynolds and R. M. Steckley of Dauphin will be given a hearing tomorrow in this city before United States Commissioner Wolfe on charges of impersonating a United States officer and using the mails for criminal purposes. It is alleged that they made a written contract with C. H. Beamer, a farmer of Arendtsville, Adams county, to sell him $1,000 in "green goods" for $300.

Postoffice Inspector Marsh learned of the scheme and acting under his instructions Beamer went to Gettysburg today prepared to receive the money, which was to have been delivered by Reynolds. Instead Steckley met the farmer and told him that he was a United States officer and that he had arrested Reynolds at Baltimore with $5,000 in green goods in his possession and the contract which Beamer had signed.

Steckley is alleged to have agreed to settle the matter for a consideration, and while the terms were being discussed he was arrested by a party of United States officers. Reynolds was being watched in this city by another officer and an hour later he was taken into custody. The pair were committed to jail here in default of $5,000 bail.

Broke World's Dancing Record.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 21.—Miss Bessie Golden of Wellsville and Joseph Cassidy of this city have broken the world's record for dancing. During a dance at Columbian park Saturday night, Charles Shenkel, the piano player, bet he could play longer than any couple could dance, and this couple took him up. They danced without intermission for four hours and 15 minutes. The former world's record was 2 hours and 35 minutes. Shenkel quit half an hour before the dancers.

Carnegie Library for Lorain.

LORAIN, O., July 21.—(Special.)—Lorain is to get a $50,000 library building from Andrew Carnegie. A communication was received today from Mr. Carnegie, dated Skibo Castle, which states that if the city of Lorain will give a pledge to maintain a library at $5,000 a year, and provide a suitable site he would furnish $50,000 to erect a building. This the Lorain council stands ready to do.

The Wonders That Money Will Do is further demonstrated in the fresh news of Today's Remnant Sale.

One Dollar can be made to perform the work of two—in many cases the work of three and four.

This is supplemental news to that already published—fresh news that you can read while breakfasting—and then away, away, to the Third Great Remnant Sale of Greater Pittsburg's Greatest Store.

A profusion of Remnants and Odd Lots of everything—just such things as are wanted right away, and that you do not care to pay much for.

Remnant Lots Women's and Children's Shoes.

And a right good lot of them, too. One of those rare occasions for buying fine goods for a bit of money that seems trivial for such goodness.

Such reduced prices as these:

At $3—sold for $5—Women's fine dongola kid shoes, finished with patent leather tip. This shoe has handturned sole that is soft and pliable as a glove—the very finest of dress shoes. Button or lace as preferred. All sizes and widths.

Young ladies' fine Dress Shoes—new, fresh goods—made over foot-form lasts. Sizes 11½ to 2 for $2, sell regularly for $3; sizes 8½ to 11, for $1.50, sell regularly for $2.25; sizes 6 to 8, for $1.25, sell regularly for $2.

At $2—sold for $2.75 and $3.50—Best grades boys' shoes in enameled, patent and box calf leathers. Solid as a rock.

At $2.25—sold for $3.50—Boys' fine low-cut shoes, box calf and patent leather. Something very choice.

At $1.50—sold for $2.50—A lot of children's Oxfords, a shoe built for first-class service.

At $1—sold for $1.50—Children's fine light-weight tan shoes.

Here's an excellent opportunity to get frames for those pictures you've been intending to frame for ever so long.

We have taken all our short pieces of moulding and made them into Photograph Frames—7x9, 8x10, 10x12, and odd sizes. These have been fitted with glass back and mat, and will be sold for 15c, 20c, 25c, 35c and 50c each. Less than half the price of the moulding alone.

Neatly framed Pictures—different subects—will be offered for Half original prices.

Our entire stock of Picture Mouldings will be on sale at half prices.

Remnant Lots of Requisites for the Toilette.

This department to the right as you enter lower Penn avenue doors is full of such underpriced things as these:

Talcum Powder from our own laboratory. Glass jars of violet and rose. Large 25c jar for 15c.

What is left of the sample brushes—a collection of French brushes comprising all styles—will be sold today for one-half original low prices.

2,400 cakes of Toilet Soap—Elder Flower, Palm and Tar—will be sold for 2c a cake. Original price 5c.

Fine Perfumes will be sold for 25c an ounce. Don't mind the bottle—We'll give you one. Choose either Jockey Club, Violette, Bouquette, Red Rose, Lily of the Valley or Lilac.

Remnant Lots Household Sundries.

These in the big house-furnishing department of the basement.

10c Dover Egg Beaters, 4c each.

A table full of odds and ends in Traveling Bags, Carpet Beaters and School Bags, regularly priced at 25c, 50c and 75c. All to go at 10c each.

50 White Shirtwaist Suits, $5 Each.

You can see some of them in the window, and you will be ready to aver they have the look of dresses that you have seen that cost double and treble the money.

Handsome sheer materials, finished with tucks, embroidery and insertions—cheery dresses with nothing monotonous about them.

But what's $5 for something idealistic of summer dress?

Remnant Dress Trimmings.

Appliques in white and black; Spangled Bands; Fine French Persians; Jetted Galloons; Iridescent Bead Trimming; Satin Folds; Stitched Bands, and a very large collection of colors in washable braids, both white and colored, many of the above at one-quarter their original price.

A collection of seasonable goods, consisting of Novelty Silk Braid Trimmings, Colored Appliques, Persian, Black and Gold Bands, which sold for 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25 per yard, will be placed on the counter to close out at 25c yard.

Remnant Lots Silk, Cotton and Lisle Thread Underwear.

News that women will appreciate.

White Silk Vests 75c instead of $1. Colored Mercerized Vests, 35c instead of 75c.

Colored Silk and Lisle Vests, 50c instead of 75c.

White Silk Vests, 60c instead of 75c.

Mercerized Union Suits at $2, instead of $3.50.

Cartwright & Warner's wool gauze Union Suits, half prices.

Odd Lots Fine Bedding.

Opportunity to purchase a set of sheets of finest quality for a little money. Spreads and Blankets, too.

Fancy embroidered Sheets at $1 sold for $1.85; at $1.25 sold for $2.

At 50c each—sold for $1—100 Crichet Bedspreads. You don't meet with many offers like this.

Finest Blankets that sold for $6.50 at $4; sold for $8 at $5; sold for $10 at $6.50. These prices for the pair.

Robe Blankets—those blankets that can be used for a couch cover or for throwing around one when going to the bath—will be sold at $6.25 each for the $12 ones, $4.50 each for the $9 ones, $3.50 each for the $7 ones.

Remnant Lots in Art Needlework Department.

Just such fancy things as women want to take along on their vacation trip—at least many of them.

For instance—

At 5c each—sold for 25c—White duck Pipe Racks, stamped and tinted in college designs. Ready to embroider. Complete with pasteboard form.

At 5c each—sold as high as 75c—A lot of imitation Leather Novelties slightly mussed. Various subjects.

Plain and mounted Pocketbooks, various half prices in-between these: $2 ones for $1 up to $8 ones for $4.50.

Belts—these are of silks and ornamented—50c for $1 belts up to $9.75 for $19.50 belts.

Less Than Half for Imported Swisses

It is a downright shame to bring these beautiful Swisses down to to the level of medium grades; but these are clearance times and they must suffer in common with other fine goods.

What a great time it is for women, anyhow.

Today you can buy imported Swisses that sold for 75c, 85c and $1 a yard for the singularly small price of 25c a yard.

Today you can buy handsomely Embroidered Swisses (there is not a great lot, however), in exclusive patterns, that sold for $1 and $1.25 a yard—for 50c and 75c a yard. Some of them are only in one dress pattern to a color.

Remnant Lots Bric-a-Brac.

Odd lots accumulate just as rapidly in this third floor department as in any of the other sections of the store.

We sweep them out with such reductions as these:

25 per cent off on all Bronzes, Ivories, Royal Bonn, Vienna, Teplitz, Satsuma, Copenhagen and Wemyss wares.

600 pieces of Japanese hand-carved ivories, or netsooks, reduced from 75c and $1 to 35c each, or 3 for $1.

All Berice Metal Ware, such as Vases, candlesticks, pitchers, etc., reduced to One-Half regular prices.

Remnant Lots Buttons.

A sale of odds and ends of Fine Buttons. There will be enough of many of them for what you need, and you will find among the lot Fine Cut Steels, Enameled, Rhinestones and Gilt. All to be sold at half their original price.

Pearl Buttons on cards, containing two dozen. The buttons are off color, but good and strong. 2c card.

Remnant Lots of Toys.

Five pennies will go a long ways toward buying a toy that will amuse the child for some time. And some of the things are not baubles—not by a good deal.

At 5c each—Table containing a lot of toys, many of their counterparts having sold for $1.

At 10c each—Another table containing articles, many of them that sold for $1.50.

Handsomely dressed Dolls, as well as several lines of undressed dolls, will be sold for Half Prices.

Remnant Lots Dress Shields.

15c a pair for those that sold for 23c, 25c and 28c.

These are the odorless kind—no rubber—and they will wash.

Remnant Lots Jewelry and Silverware.

Table Silverware and personal adornments.

For 25c, 50c and 75c, choice from a collection of sterling and gold filled jewelry, some of the pieces having sold for as much as $2.25.

At half original prices a lot of odd pieces of quadruple plated silverware—cream pitchers, sugar bowls, chocolate pots, fruit bowls, etc.

Remnant Lots Shears and Scissors.

10c a pair.

Sold for 25c, 35c and 50c.

A little rusty, but a piece of pumice stone and a little carbon oil will change the rusty surface to a bright and shining one in a minute or so.

Remnants Writing Paper.

5c a package—about one-fifth the regular price.

For several days we have been busy tying up all the odds and ends of finest correspondence papers into packages.

Every fashionable size—every popular tint, including white.

Each package contains paper and envelopes to match

PENN AND FIFTH.

COUNCIL AGAIN HELD BACK BY BUSY RINGSTERS

Filibustering Tactics Are Adopted to Prevent Legislation.

FILTRATION RESOLUTION

Is Referred to the Committee on Finance—It Provides for Compilation of Complete Estimates as to the Cost of the Proposed Plant.

Common council ringsters last night continued their political suicide. They forced the reading of the minutes, causing the loss of two hours of valuable time. They obstructed everywhere possible. Their object was to prevent the introduction of the filtration resolution, but it was introduced and referred to the committee on finance without debate. A resolution to investigate the cost of removing the Fifth avenue hump was lost. Common council did not adjourn until 11 o'clock.

The filtration resolution was introduced by W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward, and is as follows:

Whereas, The city of Pittsburgh has issued bonds to the amount of $2,500,000, and authorized the expenditure of this amount for the building and equipping of a filtration plant, and,

Whereas, The director of public works has approximately estimated that the entire cost of the filtration plant, not including covers, will be $3,635,500, and,

Whereas, It has been approximately estimated that the cost of covering the filter beds will be about $600,000, and

Whereas, There is such a wide discrepancy between the amount of money authorized by the people to be spent for the building of the filtration plant and the estimated cost stated by the director of public works, and

Whereas, It is necessary, before any further expenditure of money, that the total cost of the contemplated plant be ascertained according to the plans and specifications now being prepared by the director of public works, and

Whereas, The director of the department of public works has stated that the plans and specifications for the work will be completed within three weeks, now be it

Resolved, That the committee on filtration shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered, on the completion of the plans and specifications, to have estimates prepared showing the entire cost of the installation of the proposed sand filtration plant, and for that purpose shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to engage the service of a person or persons fully qualified to act in connection with the superintendent of the bureau of water supply, or some other competent engineer designated by the director of public works, to make an estimate or estimates of the entire cost of said plant. The expense attending the preparation of the estimate to be paid from appropriation No. 42 contingent fund. On completion of the estimate and delivery of the same to the chairman of the committee on filtration, the city controller is hereby authorized and directed to issue his certificate on the city recorder for a warrant in payment of said expense.

Hump Question Again.

Harry A. Lamb of the Eleventh ward presented the following resolution for the investigation of the probable cost of removing the Fifth avenue hump, but a motion to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution was lost by a vote of 27 to 12:

Whereas, The removal of the Fifth avenue and Grant street hump has been a question of great public interest and concern for many years past; and

Whereas, In pursuance thereof, and in recognition of the supreme importance of said matter, the department of public works has at various times, and until recently, caused extensive surveys and work to be made and done in relation to said matter; and

Whereas, The phenomenal enormous growth of our city in population, commerce and business has made apparent the inevitable necessity of relieving the intolerable congestion of the lower business district; and

Whereas, It seems that in the judgment of the great body of business interests of the city, the removal of the said hump will relieve said congestion and open a great field for splendid business expansion to meet the great needs of our vast and wonderfully growing city, and thereby not only greatly improve the city and benefit its people, but also increase its revenues. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the president of this council be and is hereby empowered and directed to appoint a special committee of seven members of this council to inquire into and report to this council on the subject of the removal of said hump, and as to the work, surveys that have been done, made and taken from time to time in relation thereto, and as to the cost and damages of such removal, and as to advisability of making said improvement.

The filibustering began immediately after the roll call. Dr. G. W. McNeil, Twenty-first ward, made the usual motion to suspend the rules. Richard S. Scully of the Thirteenth ward acted as the machine tool as usual and objected. Thomas M. Brown of the Twentieth ward submitted a motion to suspend the rules so as to avoid reading the minutes, but the motion was lost by a vote of 21 to 15, 30 votes being required to suspend the rules. President Crawford announced that none of the members would be permitted to leave the chamber while the minutes were being read. He also forbade smoking in the room. The reading of the minutes occupied two hours.

No Prosecution for Nuisance.

The ordinance providing for the award of a contract for the collection and disposal of garbage for the four years, beginning July 1, 1903, passed second reading. This ordinance has been amended so as to compel the disposal of all garbage outside the city limits.

The resolution authorizing the city solicitor to begin a suit against the Pittsburgh Junction railroad for violation of the smoke provision in its franchise ordinance came up on third reading, but failed of a legal majority, the vote being 23 to 19. Twenty-six votes were required.

The ordinance granting to the Garrison Foundry and Machine Company the right to construct a switch track was recommended affirmatively from the committee on corporations, but was finally referred without further action to a committee of three, consisting of William Brand, D. F. Crawford and W. C. Feliz.

After a number of ordinances for street and sewer improvements had been passed a motion to adjourn was made while Mr. Lamb was on the floor to present his resolution concerning the hump. This motion was voted down. After Mr. Lamb presented his resolution and it failed to pass the branch adjourned.

MANY AT TENT MEETINGS.

Union Services of Presbyterian Evangelistic Committee Are Well Attended.

Nearly 200 people gathered in the large tent last night at the corner of Dinwiddie street and Center avenue, where a union service was held under the auspices of the Presbyterian Evangelistic committee. The invitations sent to the various Endeavor societies brought out representatives of this society from all parts of the city.

Addresses were made by the Rev. S. Edward Young, the Rev. Dr. S. A. Hunter and others. A chorus of 20 voices under the direction of Mr. Butts rendered sacred selections. In other parts of the city the tent meetings were equally as well attended.

1000 Feet Above Sea Level.

The Muskoka Lakes district, situated in the "Highlands of Ontario," is one of the most charming summer resorts in the world. Its high altitude guarantees the purest of air, pleasant days and cool nights, no flies nor mosquitoes. Perfect immunity from hay fever. Modern up-to-date hotels with first-class service. A few weeks can be spent in this region with pleasure and profit at a reasonable outlay. Handsome illustrated descriptive matter, and full particulars, may be had free by applying to G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, Canada.

STREET CAR HIT BRIDAL CARRIAGE

THE GROOM AND A DRIVER WERE INJURED IN THE WRECK.

The Vehicle Also Contained Bride and Her Brother and Sister, All of Whom Escaped Unhurt—Wedding Trip Resumed in Short Time.

The pleasures of a Carnegie bridal party were cut short for a few hours yesterday afternoon when a street car dashed into the carriage containing the newly-married bride and bridegroom, at the corner of Roberts and Main streets, shortly after 4 o'clock.

The bridegroom, William H. Caldwell, an inspector of the Carnegie Steel Company of Homestead, was severely cut and bruised around the hands and arms and the driver of the rig, Charles Lyons, was bruised and cut on the arms and body.

The bride, who was Miss Emiline Clothier, her sister, Miss Florence Clothier, and her brother, Robert Clothier, came out of the wreck without a scratch. All were badly frightened. The carriage was demolished.

After the Rev. L. R. Jones of the Methodist Episcopal church had performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clothier, in Academy street, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the bride and bridegroom said farewell to their friends and relatives.

As the party came from the house they were the recipients of the customary storm of rice and old shoes. When the driver of the carriage had reached Roberts street he attempted to turn quickly in Main.

Whipping up his horses the driver tried to make his way in safety to the other side of the street car tracks when car No. 85 of the Carnegie line crashed into the carriage. The bridegroom saw the coming accident in time to jump in front of his bride, and thus save her from injury.

The bridegroom and driver were helped to the offices of physicians nearby, where their injuries were dressed. Another carriage was summoned and soon the injured groom and his bride were able to board a train for Canonsburg, where part of their honeymoon will be spent.

IS PUTTING THE NEW FOUNTAIN IN PLACE

Signor Moretti Here Erecting Thos. J. Keenan's Beautiful Gift in Highland Park.

Signor G. Moretti, the sculptor, spent yesterday at Highland park putting in position the pedestal of the fountain which Thomas J. Keenan presents to the city. Today the figure will be placed on the base, and in the course of the week the fountain will be in use.

The subject of the work is "The Echo." The figure represents a child resting on a shell and listening to the murmur of the water which spouts from the end of the shell. The whole figure is nine feet high, while the base is four by three feet. The figure is of the purest Carvara marble, and the base is of granite.

The site chosen for the new fountain is at the lower entrance to the park, just opposite to where the cars stop before going around the curve back to the city. The fountain will occupy the center of the walk, beyond the steps, inside the park.

The exercises, if there are any, attending the presentation, will be brief. The whole is a present from Mr. Keenan.

This is the third work of art that Signor Moretti has placed in Highland park. The first was the great entrance pillars at the main entrance. The second is the Stephen Foster statue.

Mr. Moretti plans to spend two weeks or so here at this time. He has several other works in progress, one of which is a group of four bronze lions to be put at the entrance to the mansion of A. R. Peacock on Highland avenue. These are now in the foundry, and will be ready about September 1.

WENT AFTER THEISS.

Carnegie Officers Will Bring Back the Slayer of Tuferi Banatis.

Chief of Police George Foster and Constable Jacob Streitenberger of Carnegie left last night for Kewanee, Ill., where they will take charge of Frederick Theiss, who is wanted for the murder of Tuferi Banatia, near Woodville. Theiss was arrested by Marshal Otis of Kewanee on information he received from Carnegie. Soon after Theiss left the scene of the murder he wrote to his wife in Carnegie, telling her where he was going.

The murder of Banatia was at Woodville on Sunday, June 22, at a dance held by the miners of Heidelberg. There was a row in which several took part and it ended by Theiss stabbing Banatia, who died about half an hour later. Theiss escaped, and probably would have evaded the officers if he had not written to his wife. The officers expect to place Theiss in the county jail on Thursday morning.

ATTORNEY BYERS IS UNDER ARREST AT GREENSBURG

Three Charges of Larceny Against Candidate for Congress.

BAIL FIXED AT $250,000

Accused Has Not Yet Secured Bondsmen and Is in the Custody of an Officer—Papers and Money of His Uncle Said to Be Missing.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Greensburg, Pa., July 21.—A development in the alleged robbery of nearly a quarter of a million dollars in money and bonds from the venerable Jacob Byers was reached this evening, when William S. Byers, a leading lawyer of the Westmoreland county bar and the Democratic nominee for congress, was arrested on an information containing three separate charges, larceny by bailee and two of larceny.

The information was made and sworn to by Jacob Byers, the reputed owner of the lost bonds and money, aged and infirm, who has been unable to rise for several weeks from what is believed to be his death bed. The information was made this afternoon at the instance of old Mr. Byers by the Rev. C. P. Ferner, attorney in fact, before Justice Lyman Loucks of Alverton. The bail bond was fixed at $250,000. While Attorney Byers and his counsel have been expecting the warrant to be issued and the amount of the bail bond fixed at a good round sum, the defendant and his attorney were simply dumbfounded when the demand for the heavy surety was made. When the village constable, William Randolph of Tarr station, arrived here this evening, armed with the warrant, he found the attorney writing a mortgage for a client in his office.

Old Mr. Byers alleges in his affidavit that nearly a year ago he delivered to Attorney Byers, Mt. Pleasant Coke Company bonds to the amount of $175,000 and $38,580 in money, to be placed with the Westmoreland Savings & Trust Company. Afterward, it is alleged, the attorney collected $8,750 interest on the bonds, making a total of the alleged robbery of $222,330. The strong box key was duly returned to old man Byers, but it is alleged that some time afterward Attorney Byers went to old Mr. Byers and asked for the key, claiming that, as his attorney, it would be necessary for him to have possession of the key, and it was, therefore, handed over.

The aged farmer recently sent for his former pastor, the Rev. C. F. Ferner of Scottdale, and it was then that an investigation was begun. It was found that a large amount of money had been drawn from the bank by checks issued apparently by the old farmer, the bank book had been balanced and the checks have disappeared. Old Mr. Byers claims he has no knowledge of placing his signature to the two checks covering the bank account. The bonds had also disappeared from the bank.

Attorney Byers says he knows where the bonds and money are located, and that should old Mr. Byers, his granduncle, prove conclusively that he is entitled to possession of them, the dispute will end at once, for they will be delivered promptly. The attorney insists, as he has all along, that he was duly employed as attorney by old Mr. Byers.

Late tonight Attorney Byers had not secured bondsmen, but he has promised Constable Randolph that they will be forthcoming tomorrow. The constable will remain with the accused attorney tonight and tomorrow the party will go to Alverton to arrange for the date of hearing.

FOR LOCAL MARKET.

Florala Sawmill Company Will Ship Much Yellow Pine Here from Alabama.

Interests of the American Lumber and Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh have arranged to give to this market the product of 40,000 acres rich in yellow pine lumber, near Florala, Ala. Saw mills are to be erected on the tract which will put out 80,000 feet daily and this may be largely increased subsequently.

For this operation the Florala Saw Mill Company was chartered yesterday at Harrisburg and will start operations with paid-up capital of $100,000. Headquarters will be maintained here in connection with those of the American Lumber and Manufacturing Company, with offices in the Publication building.

The new company will organize with the following officers: W. D. Johnston, president; G. W. Gates, secretary, and J. T. Hughes of Florala, Ala., treasurer, with D. R. McLean and F. W. Kinninger of Pittsburgh completing the directorate.

Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap.

MILLIONS of Women Use CUTICURA SOAP, assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and inflammations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICURA OINTMENT, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odours. REMNANT SALE

In Our New Store a Triumph Unprecedented

Come today and you'll endorse the verdict of every person who entered our doors yesterday that "THIS IS THE BIGGEST REMNANT SALE EVER INAUGURATED IN OUR ENTIRE CAREER!" We knew that this FIRST REMNANT SALE in our new store would be an eclipsing success from the start, as WE'VE FIVE TIMES THE NUMBER OF BARGAINS SHOWN DURING PREVIOUS YEARS, AND CAN SAVE YOU TREBLE THE MONEY WE FORMERLY DID, but must admit that we never dreamed of such crowds or such grand results as have attended us thus far.

A fine-minutes' visit to our Ladies' Made-Up Garment, Dry Goods, Millinery, Shoe and other departments will reveal prices that seem miraculous when you compare them with the figures prevalent everywhere else. We enjoyed an unprecedented business during the past two months, and consequently find ourselves overloaded with an enormous accumulation of remnants, broken lots, etc. To clear our floors of these goods before the arrival of Fall Shipments, we've resorted to these unheard-of reductions. You must come and see the sight with your own eyes and make comparisons before you can correctly measure the greatness of the opportunity.

Kaulbach Chosen Major—George C. Kaulbach was last night elected major of Encampment No. 1, Union Veteran Legion.

Contagious Diseases—Sixteen cases of typhoid fever, two of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Was Killed by Train—Patrick Mulkearns, 35 years of age of Carnegie, was killed yesterday morning at the Fourth street crossing of the Panhandle railroad, Carnegie, by a train.

Street Car Victim Dies—James Hill, a negro, 52 years of age, of Cemetery road, Braddock, died at the East End hospital at 11 o'clock yesterday morning of injuries received two hours before by being struck by a street car at Swissvale.

Child Run Over by Wagon—Edwin Fuhrey, 8 years of age, of No. 2008 Gladstone street, Allegheny, was knocked down and run over by a wagon at Beaver avenue and Franklin street yesterday at noon. He was so severely injured that he may die. He was taken home.

Fisto Lost a Leg—Frank Fisto, 17 years of age, a water carrier employed at the plant of the McClintic-Marshall Company, Rankin, lost a leg yesterday morning by being thrown under a car while attempting to get over a train. He was taken to the Homeopathic hospital in a serious condition.

Blast Injured Two—John Winchan, 40 years of age, and Leon Cadas, 24 years of age, were badly injured yesterday morning by a blast in a stone quarry at Ben Avon. The former was taken to the St. John's hospital, Allegheny, and the latter to his home, No. 119 Milroy avenue, Allegheny.

Don't Like Being Fined—James Doran, Daniel Grubbs and John Q. Adams, prominent and well-known residents of Wilkinsburg, are after Burgess Horner and they say they will stay after him until his time is up next March. All of them have been fined for burning rubbish after 4 p. m., which is a violation of an ordinance.

Killed by a Street Car—James Kinney, a negro 55 years of age, living near the cemetery in North Braddock, was struck by a street car near the Swissvale depot yesterday morning about 9 o'clock and died when he reached the hospital. Kinney was walking behind a car and stepped in front of one going rapidly in the opposite direction.

New Cars Will Save Time—Men were set to work yesterday to lay track in Rebecca avenue, Wilkinsburg, to connect the line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company with the line that will run from Verona to Wilkinsburg. Cars will be moved on August 12. It is said that cars to East Pittsburgh can save 11 minutes over the new route.

Life Saved by Sacrifice—John Stam of No. 1128 Washington avenue, Braddock, by his presence of mind saved his life yesterday, but he will probably be forever without the use of his right hand. Stam was at work in the Ninth street rod mill at the rolls. A white hot rod missed the rolls and came directly at him. He caught the rod in his right hand and twisted it past him, otherwise it would have gone through him and killed him.

Woman Was Afraid—Mrs. Hester Taylor of Madison avenue and East street, Allegheny, told Alderman David McKelvey yesterday that John Custer, who lives in the same locality, had informed her that he intended to cut her into mincemeat the first opportunity he got. She said that she was of the opinion that he really meant to do it. He was arrested and held in $500 bail for a hearing today.

Policeman Was Arrested—Jacob Walker, a Sharpsburg policeman, had a hearing before Alderman Toole yesterday, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, made by Charles Kraus of Twelfth street, Sharpsburg. Kraus was arrested for fighting on June 21, by Policeman Walker, and attempted to escape, when the latter struck him several times on the head with his mace, injuring him so badly that he has been laid up since. Walker was held for court.

Mysteriously Burned—Frederick Yoden of No. 67 High street, Allegheny, was painfully but not seriously burned yesterday. The police say that the burning is a mystery. Dr. Walter Ure says that he was called to attend Yoden, who was burned in a basement in North avenue, and that two other physicians were there, but he would not give their names. The police say they heard that a man was slightly burned by a kerosene explosion, but where or how they did not know.

Williams' Feelings Hurt—On June 14 Policeman Charles Mackey arrested David Williams of No. 1727 Penn avenue. Williams did not go along to the patrol box without expostulating and when the box was reached put his hand to his rear pocket. The officer did not wait to see whether Williams was going to draw a revolver or not, but promptly tapped him on the head with his mace. Williams was quiet when the wagon arrived. Williams feels that he was abused by the officer, so he sued him before Alderman J. J. Kirby. Mackey was held for court in $500 bail.

Politicians in a Row—In a recent issue of the Turtle Creek Tribune was a little item to the effect that Albert Johnston, the borough clerk, had not filed a bond. Last night about 8:30 o'clock Johnston and A. P. Dibler, editor of the Tribune, met in front of the postoffice in Penn avenue. There were hard words and then blows. Both were arrested. They gave bond for teir appearance before Burgess John Clugston. Dibler remained on the street, but Johnston had to seek a physician to patch up his face. The men are both prominent and each is of an opposing political faction. When it is time for the hearing Turtle Creek will be there in force.

MISHAP TO RUSSELL SAGE.

In Trying to Board a Moving Car He Suffers a Fall.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—Russell Sage was knocked down by a Broadway car at 1 o'clock this afternoon. He was on his way to a directors' meeting.

At Cedar street he endeavored to board a Broadway car which was moving. He caught the brass railing, but when he stepped upon the platform he slipped and fell upon his side. He was not dragged, but was slightly bruised. A policeman picked him up and carried him into a cafe. He left unaccompanied, but limping slightly.

GREATEST VAULT OF ARMOR PLATE IN THE COUNTRY

Takes Twenty Horses to Haul Plate of 32 Tons for Front Wall.

250 TONS OF STEEL USED

The World's Greatest Strong Box Being Erected in Pittsburgh—Will Be Twice Eclipsed in a Second Vault for the Frick Building.

In the basement of the new Farmers Deposit National bank building, Fifth avenue and Wood street, there is being erected the greatest safety deposit vault of armor plate in the country. It is the first of similar dimensions to go into the basement of a great building and its location involves extraordinary effort in the placing of the great plates employed. On the heels of this there will be another vault of similar character erected which, in armor plate consumed, will be of twice the importance of the one now being installed. This largest vault of armor plate will be placed in the basement of the Frick building for the use of the new Union Savings bank.

The new Frick vault will consume 500 tons of armor plate, which will be furnished by the Bethlehem Steel Company. The Farmers Deposit National bank vault is using 250 tons of armor plate, furnished by the Carnegie Steel Company.

Immense Vaults.

In the Frick building there is now a great armor plate vault, nearly as great as that of the Union Trust Company, which was the first of the kind ever erected in the country. The Frick vault, already installed, is on the Grant street floor of the building and is also for the use of the new Union Savings bank.

The vault for the new Farmers Depohit National Bank building is especially noteworthy in that with several stories of structural steel already erected overhead the vault is being placed in the basement, and its foundations are 30 feet under the street level. The cost of this vault will be upward of $200,000. It will be 19 feet 6 inches by 22 feet in floor area and in height 9 feet 6 inches.

Within the past two weeks there have been many nights when after 12:30 o'clock the traction traffic along Fifth avenue has been suspended while the great plates have been received and carried to the basement of the building.

Traffic Is Suspended.

For five hours or more every other night the movement of cars along Fifth avenue is suspended while the work was going on. There have been delivered there plates weighing as high as 21 tons, and within this week one will be delivered which will weigh 32 tons.

Early this morning one of these plates, weighing 21 tons was delivered. This was shipped from the Carnegie mills to the Twenty-sixth street terminals of the Allegheny Valley railroad. There James Black, who is doing all the hauling, received it. From the railroad car the plate was jacked onto the big truck on which it was hauled to the new building by 14 horses. The great truck wagon employed has wheels with tires 12 inches wide and steel axles 5 inches in diameter. Arriving at the corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street on the Fifth avenue side, a force of a dozen skilled men, working under George J. Hollar, took up the work of running the plate down a heavily timbered incline on rollers to the basement, where the plate is being put into place.

No Derrick Strong Enough.

For the lifting only small jacks are employed, there being no derricks of sufficient strength to sustain the weight of the great pieces of armor plate.

The Hollar Inspection and Guarantee Company of Philadelphia, as engineer, has the contract for the placing of the armor plates for the vault. This company erected the armor plate vaults in the Union Trust Company and in the Union Savings bank apartments at the Frick building and will erect the new and greatest vault in the basement of the Frick building.

Already there has been placed for the vault in the basement of the Farmers Deposit National bank four plates of 21 tons each, two of 18 tons and two of 13 tons. One 14-ton plate is yet to be placed, besides the 32-ton plate, and the great door, weighing 12 tons. All the plates at the front of the vault will be 12½ inches thick and the plates in the other walls are 5 inches thick. A score of horses will be employed to haul the 32-ton plate.

The Hall Safe and Lock Company of Cincinnati will equip the interior of the vault for the reception of silver plate, jewelry, bonds and other securities and valuables. In another week the Carnegie Steel Company will have delivered all necessary plates and the Hollar Inspection and Guarantee Company will have placed them.

ADDRESS ON FILTRATION.

Dr. T. D. Davis Discusses the Question Before East End Board of Trade.

At the regular monthly meeting of the East End board of trade last night, Dr. T. D. Davis made an address on the filtration question.

Dr. Davis was a member of the chamber of commerce committee appointed nine years ago, at the time of the cholera scare, to investigate the best methods of filtration for the use of the city.

At that time he became thoroughly conversant with the subject of filtration and has given it much study since. He told of his experience as a member of the committee and the obstacles they met with in trying to have a better water supply for the city.

He said, according to his investigations, it would be next to impossible to bring water into the city from an outside source. Thirty-four new members were elected to the board at last night's meeting.

Bad Blood

Pimples, rashes, eczema, boils, headache, nervousness, debility—these are some of the results of impure blood. Medical authorities agree that impure blood can be made pure and rich. Your doctor will tell you about Ayer's Sarsaparilla. All druggists. $1.00.

Bad blood follows constipation, and constipation follows a sluggish liver. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They produce natural daily movements in a natural way.

"I Have a Fine Appetite and Perfect Digestion—Pe-ru-na Is Surely a Grand Medicine."

MR. A. J. WRIGHT

MR. A. J. WRIGHT, Treasurer of the Ancient Order of Forester's Court, 8419, Strathroy, Ont., writes:

"I have suffered for two years with pains across my back, and severe stomach trouble. I feared that I had kidney trouble, and felt very discouraged until I used Peruna. It took only five bottles to completely restore me to health and strength. The catarrhal trouble of my stomach has entirely disappeared. I have no more pain, but a fine appetite and perfect digestion. Peruna has my approval. It is surely a grand medicine."—A. J. Wright.

When the stomach is affected by catarrh there is a large quantity of vitiated mucus poured out into the stomach, which constitutes a very serious drain upon the vital powers.

This mucus passes away in one form or another and is generally unnoticed by the patient, who is unable to account for the great weakness and prostration which is experienced.

WEAKNESS AND PROSTRATION.

These patients complain of lassitude, all-tired-out feelings, their blood becomes thin, nervous system deranged, food seems to do them no good, continuous and increasing weakness.

The unfortunate victim wonders why he should be so weak, why his food gives him no strength, why his blood should be so thin.

But the evil effects of catarrh of the stomach are not yet all told.

Not only does it set up the weakening drain already referred to, but it interferes with, sometimes nearly prevents, the digestion of food.

This alone would make the patient drain upon the system. When the food reaches the stomach it lies there undigested, because it does not find a proper quality of gastric juice.

Instead of digesting, it sours, forming gas, belchings of sour fluid, pain and a sense of fullness at the pit of the stomach, suffocating sensations, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, great despondency; in short, producing a condition popularly known as dyspepsia.

Peruna is a specific for catarrh of the stomach. It cures the catarrh by removing the cause. With clean, healthy mucous membranes catarrh cannot exist.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

THE RIVER INTERESTS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, July 21.—River 18.1 feet and falling slowly; the Jack Frost is due this morning with a tow from above; aboard the Frost are Fred and Douglas Hall, sons of Captain Thomas Hall, and Howard Fishback, of Covington. The boys are spending their vacation. There is a scarcity of labor here in river circles. Firemen are especially needed at this port. The H. P. Phelps arrived with a tow of lumber from the Tennessee river. A coal boat, partly loaded, was sunk at the Hatfield landing below the suspension bridge on the Kentucky shore.

LOUISVILLE—River falling, with 6.11 feet in the canal, 4.9 feet on the falls, and 13.4 feet at foot of locks; business good; weather cloudy and cool; packets in and out on time, with good trips; the Avalon passed up from Memphis at 10 a. m.

HUNTINGTON—River 12 feet 4 inches and rising; cool and windy; Convoy up, 4 p. m.

WARREN—River 7 feet 2 inches and falling; weather cloudy and cool.

PARKERSBURG—River 10 feet and falling; weather clear and cool; up, Queen City, for Parkersburg, at 1 p. m.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet 7 inches and falling; weather cloudy.

GREENSBORO—River 8 feet 6 inches and stationary; weather fair and pleasant; Gertrude and Woodward down Tuesday; Elizabeth and Cherry up.

STEUBENVILLE—River 8 feet 6 inches and falling; weather cloudy and cool and warm; up, Fallis.

MORGANTOWN—River 8 feet 7 inches and rising; weather clear and warm.

GALLIPOLIS—River 9 feet 7 inches and falling slowly; down, Virginia; weather clear and cooler.

WHEELING—River 8 feet 8 inches and rising, cloudy and cool; departed, Beaste Smith, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.

MARIETTA—River 8.2 feet and falling; cloudy and cool; Queen City up, 3 p. m.; S. A. Woodruff left at 9 for the south.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 7.8 feet and rising.

News of the Rivers.

A dam is to be built across the Green river above the mouth of the Big Barren.

The steamer Grey Eagle has completed repairs at St. Louis and is again in trade.

Matthew W. Erwin, was one of the pilots on the steamer Charley Clarke on his last trip south.

The towboat Iron Age broke her shaft near Vanceburg but is now on her way up the river.

The towboat Clifton was inspected at Pittsburgh yesterday by United States Inspectors Captain George A. Atkinson and Captain Isaac Williams.

Edwin V. Fowler, pilot of the Volunteer, who with his father, S. S. Fowler, made the last trip on that boat, was at pilots' headquarters yesterday entertaining the pilots with a fiddle.

The Elizabeth shipped an unusually large cargo of freight yesterday, part of it being a quantity of gas pipe and several loads of furniture. Besides the first-class passengers she carried a crowd of foreigners to work on the pipe lines.

The following towboats arrived with tows of empties yesterday: Dave Woods, Captain E. G. Jones; Pilot Thomas Moore; Valiant, Captain William Brookhart; Sam Brown, captain Lou Blair; Jo Walton, Captain James Woodward; Charles Clark, Pilots Fred Erwin and Luster Chester; Hornet No. 2, Captain William Weldon.

Captain William Martin, United States engineer in charge of the Ohio river improvements, who has been at Beaver the past week, inspecting the work there, will report favorably for an extension of the work on the Beaver river as far back as the mouth of the Conoquenessing. This will be a great aid to the manufacturing interests of the valley.

The packets Elizabeth and I. C. Woodward had an exciting chase Sunday morning to see which would enter lock No. 3 first on their trip down. The Elizabeth won the race, but in pushing her nose into the lock was slightly damaged. The race was a very interesting one to the passengers, and at the close, as the boats ran side by side to the lock, grew very exciting.

It was reported yesterday that the towboat G. A. Thomas had met with an accident at Walkers, a short distance below Liverpool, and had lost part of her boats. Captain Starling McIntyre, who for many years commanded boats in the Cincinnati, Memphis & New Orleans Packet Company line, has accepted a position as master of the City of Savannah in the Tennessee river and St. Louis trade.

Jared M. Grace, master of the towboat Volunteer, reported yesterday the supposed drowning of an unknown man at Georgetown island, in the Ohio river, at 4 o'clock Friday. A deck hand on board the Volunteer saw a man passing in a boat and when the boat struck his boat it upset and nothing more was seen of him. The accident was not reported to the captain till an hour after it happened and no search was made.

COALBOAT WATER TODAY.

It Is Expected and 6,000,000 Bushels of Coal Will Be Sent Down River.

A stage of coalboat water is confidently expected in the Ohio river this morning and every effort will be made by the boatmen to get another big shipment of coal started down. Yesterday it was predicted that at least 11.5 feet would be seen by noon today and it is not unlikely that the rise which is expected out of the Allegheny river may bring even more. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company has arranged to get all its empties loaded and those which were up the river were dropped down yesterday to be in line for the procession. Preparations are completed for the shipment of nearly 6,000,000 bushels of coal, most of which will stop at Cincinnati and Louisville. This amount will leave the harbor before this evening if no unexpected delays are encountered and in the event of more water it is possible that the amount sent down will be much greater. These towboats have arrived in port within the last 48 hours and will be sent down with the following tows: Sam Brown, Fred Wilson, Valiant and Mariner, and Pacific No. 2, 22 barges each; Cruiser, Volunteer, Neville Walton and Tom Dodsworth, 17 barges each; Joe Walton, the hornet, 19 barges each. The Tom Dodsworth will have 17 light boats and three barges. The James Brown, Jim Wood, J. C. Risher and Tornado, which were due in port last night, will leave with from 10 to 17 barges each.

TWELVE PAGES.

Armor Plate Vaults.

It is several years since the first armor plate bank vault was manufactured here in Pittsburgh. It was not a very large one. The Pittsburgh idea has grown, however, so the new Farmers Deposit bank is putting one in that will weigh 250 tons, and the Union Trust Company's savings bank department in the Frick building is to have one of 500 tons. The fact is recognized that no amount of masonry can make a vault as secure as these of double forged nickel steel and their manufacture is bound to grow into an industry. Possibly peaceful uses would never have developed this high quality steel plate, known as armor in the world's navies, but its adaptation is the modern version of beating the sword into a plowshare and the spear into a pruning hook.

Most Dangerous at the Breach.

A story was circulated yesterday that if the names of the Republican state candidates were allowed to go on the Citizens party ticket in this county the old "organization" would do its best to defeat the state ticket. The story was promptly denied at local Republican headquarters, as might have been expected. Its only basis was the possibility that the Republican county ticket might lose a few votes because the bolting voter could vote the state ticket by marking a cross in the circle at the head of the Citizens column.

It seems never to have occurred to the originators of this yarn—whether in or out of the "organization"—that the only people who could profit from such a movement as was threatened would be the Democratic state candidates. It is not likely any Democrats would thereby be brought to vote for the Republican county candidates. The final result would be, of course, to utterly discredit the "organization," which has no reserve character to draw upon. Its one chance for retaining control of the Republican party machinery in this county is to give the utmost support of which it is capable to the Republican state ticket in the coming election. Any manifestation of disloyalty or irregularity would absolutely destroy whatever of prestige or claim to recognition it retains at present.

Standing by the President.

Senator Burton of Kansas, one of the chief obstructionists when the reciprocity bill was before congress, said that he would like the people of his state to speak their minds on the subject. The Republicans of Riley county have spoken. When they held their convention they took the following action:

> Whereas, Senator Burton has requested the people to advise him as to their wishes, now, therefore, be it
>
> Resolved, That we demand of Senator Burton, whose home is in this district, that he vote for and stand by the reciprocity policy of President Roosevelt.

Senator Burton has heard from Riley county, from his own neighbors and party associates, and there is no uncertainty in Riley county's opinion. It stands for justice to Cuba. The Kansas state convention manifested the same spirit that animated the Riley county Republicans, and declared specifically in favor of President Roosevelt's attitude.

The people of other states have been heard from also. The action of the Republican convention of Pennsylvania is well known to all. It was in accord with the declarations of Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin and Nebraska. Minnesota sturdily resisted all efforts on the part of the beet sugar people to secure approval of the beet sugar congressional tactics, and the Republicans of that state adopted as a plank in their platform a declaration that "we favor reciprocity for Cuba as urged by President Roosevelt."

The "Boxers" are hearing from the people, and the people do not hesitate to declare that the honor and good faith of the nation are of more importance than the sugar beet.

The Conference on Trusts.

The United States, so far as appears, has not been invited to participate in the conference proposed by the czar of Russia to deal with trusts. From this, some reason that the conference is to be less an anti-trust conference than one to consider what has been in Europe termed "the American peril." Be that as it may, the United States does not want an invitation to an international gathering to deal with a question that it considers of purely domestic concern. Combinations of capital may be regarded with suspicion or with confidence, but even those who regard them with more suspicion than confidence would refuse to subject business corporations or combinations of American origin, and having their roots and most of their branches here, to the mercies of European statecraft.

The matter of business combinations is of great concern in the United States at the present time. They are here and at work. Their benefits are apparent and their possibilities for evil if unrestrained have been demonstrated in some directions. Their regulation in such a manner as to preserve the good that is in them and that flows from them, while reducing to a minimum their powers for evil, is the great problem to which the president, Attorney General Knox and other statesmen are addressing themselves. Until we solve it for ourselves through their efforts there is little probability that an invitation to go into partnership with other nations in seeking a solution would be accepted. Therefore there is no probability that the United States will feel slighted if the czar's conference is, as reported, to be confined to delegates of those nations that participated in the sugar bounties conference. It may be an anti-American move, but we doubt it. But even if it is we are not worried about it.

The forms taken by the business enterprises of any country, it must be apparent, are as much a matter of purely domestic concern and regulation as forms of government. They are properly subject to the direction or the modification of the power under whose protection they grow, and in their international aspects they are entitled to only those privileges that may be accorded their protecting government for its citizens and their products by foreign governments. It is therefore a foregone conclusion that at the end of the czar's anti-trust conference, if it be held, things will be pretty much as they are now, so far as the stated object of the conference is concerned. What other things may grow out of it will be another story. We have not yet reached the point where international trade relations can be regulated by a congress. Much less have we reached a point where a government will be willing to submit the details of its domestic production and the enterprise of its citizens to such regulations. The exportable products of a nation are, in general, merely its surplus in excess of domestic consumption and requirements. To submit the production and marketing of such surplus to the regulations of an international body would be to submit the production for domestic consumption to the same influences. Even the subjects of a czar would hardly submit to anything of the kind.

The New Bryan Party.

Rumor has it that certain western representatives of the disorganized Bryan free silver Democracy, alarmed at the growing power of the Cleveland-Hill crowd in New York and throughout some of the eastern states, will seek the organization of a new Democratic party out of the odds and ends of the numerous Populistic and Democratic groups in the west and south favorable to the leadership of Bryan. It is announced quite earnestly that this movement does not contemplate the candidacy of W. J. Bryan for the presidency in 1904, but is intended to offset the recent activity of eastern Democrats who emigrated into other pastures when free silver was the shibboleth of national party faith. Not being able to convert their erring sound money eastern brethren, the western Democrats propose to kick free silver out of their catechism and effect a new organization from which they hope to eliminate the bugaboo of Bryan's candidacy.

Whether this promised development is really in contemplation or not, the persistent rumors regarding it show plainly the state of feeling among national Democratic leaders over the present situation. There would seem to be no probability of a coalition between the old line Democrats who repudiated Bryanism and the followers of that latter-day Democratic saint. This being so, the western Democrats and a large contingent of the party in the south doubtless feel that a coalition with all the fragments of populism would be a more reasonable step than to seek for overtures from the Clevelandites.

Between agreeing upon a really hopeful issue and determining their actual party standing the Democrats have a large job cut out for themselves within the time that yet remains for entering the 1904 running. To these difficulties must be added the task of harmonizing the recent utterances of Mr. Bryan with the alleged purpose of the new organization to chuck free silver overboard.

Enforcing an Old Lesson.

The unenviable and painful notoriety given to the doings of Capt. Putnam Bradlee Strong during the past year is of interest to the general public only in so far as it may be used to point a moral, the inculcation of which cannot be too strongly insisted upon. When a man undertakes to go the pace in defiance of the laws of society he usually comes to the end of his journey by means of some criminal action beyond what was originally contemplated in his first departure from the straight path of honor and rectitude. Our modern life is strewn with wrecked characters that went down under exactly the same conditions that led to the undoing of young Strong. When a man and woman meet and form an attachment upon the basis of mutual fondness for fast living and unconventional escapades they are certain to come to grief in the end, no matter whether the relationship be sanctioned by law or conducted in defiance of all decent sentiment. We doubt whether the introduction of the marriage ceremony at any point in the relation between Strong and his companion would have saved them from the disgraceful finale, however much it might have satisfied the canons of society. Beginning with an act that forfeited mutual respect, they naturally end their association, the one by fraud and deceit and the other by bitter denunciation.

The denouement of the affair has an element of the pathetic. Strong has a heart-broken mother whose distress of mind can be better imagined than described. But the fact of greatest moment in the disgraceful affair is that it points a valuable lesson and sets up a fresh danger signal to young men and women who cast the hazard of good name, character and future happiness upon the sandy foundation of a momentary whim unsanctioned by society.

Rapid Changes in Africa.

Consul Ravndal, who looks after Uncle Sam's affairs at Beirut, has been casting a comprehensive glance at what is going on all over Africa. Great changes are taking place in the Dark Continent, and the light is penetrating to distant recesses. It is not particularly cheering to pupils in the public schools to learn that all maps of Africa more than six months old are obsolete, but that way of stating the fact that history is being made rapidly and the face of the country is undergoing many material changes is exceedingly impressive to the general reader.

Our Beirut consul speaks of the probability of the realization before many years of the dream of Cecil Rhodes—a railroad from the cape to Cairo. The present plan is to carry that railway through the Congo Free state to the upper waters of the Nile. From Stanley Falls a railway is to be built to Lake Albert Nyanza, which will supply the missing link between the cape and the Egyptian railway network. But the point which troubles Consul Ravndal is the failure of the United States to get its share of the African trade. He says that our commerce is of material consequence only with Cape Colony, while Rhodesia is waiting to do business with us—Rhodesia, eight times the size of Great Britain. Then there are the markets of Abyssinia, the Soudan and the Congo Free state, offering fine opportunities for American goods.

Consul Ravndal will have to be patient. Americans have been very busy at home in the last year or two, but they have not entirely overlooked Africa. Only last week we heard of their taking orders of considerable size in the former Boer republics of the Transvaal and Orange Free state, and they will work into the countries the consul speaks of presently. At all events it is pleasant to learn that there is business worth going after in Central Africa, and that the business is likely to increase in volume and importance.

Michigan is beet root sugar territory if there is any in the United States. Yet Michigan has defeated four congressmen who asked for renomination and declined to indorse the obstruction policy in the matter of Cuban reciprocity. The statesman who cannot interpret the will of Republican voters as expressed everywhere must be deaf and dumb, as well as blind—especially dumb.

Gov. Taft and Pope Leo have parted on good terms after considering a difficult problem. The good will shown on the occasion of the governor's leaving Rome augurs well for the final success of his mission in an amicable adjustment of the matter of ridding the Philippines of the objectionable friars.

Machine tactics in councils have come down to plain filibustering, from which it may be inferred the leaders of that faction are incapable of learning anything from the fate of other "Boxers."

Those prophets who contended that we were going to have a very hot summer are naturally beginning to hedge a bit and throw out sinister suggestions about the behavior of August.

The Putnam Bradlee Strong incident came in very handy for the New York papers as a means of keeping the silly season up to the usual notch of excitement.

It is learned from excellent authority that most of the passenger trains continue to stop at Washington, D. C., on their way through that deserted village.

So little has come from the czar's disarmament conference at The Hague that he probably feels safe in proposing an international pow-wow over the trusts.

The Hon. Joey Chamberlain finds it much easier to recover from being banged against a cab door than from having the premiership door banged in his face.

WORK CUT OUT FOR MACARTHUR

In Mimic Warfare He Must Defend New York Against Two Hostile Fleets.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 21.

Although Gen. Arthur MacArthur is in command of the department of the east at present, he will not be at Governors island very long. As The Gazette announced a week ago, the next officer to be in command of the United States army in this part of the country will be Gen. A. R. Chaffee, who is on his way home from the Philippines. The fact that he is on the ocean explains why Gen. MacArthur is at the head of things now. It takes some time for a ship to get here from the Philippines, and as it was deemed necessary to have someone here on the retirement of Maj.-Gen. Brooke the best man for the place was put in. The coming naval maneuvers, with sham battles, give the commander of the department of the east some important work to do. Gen. MacArthur said this afternoon: "The work of defending the city of New York against two attacking fleets will devolve upon me. In the coming naval maneuvers New York will form the objective point, and while the navy is to demonstrate the inadequateness of our coast and harbor defense the army, on the other hand, must prove the opposite. A great deal of the responsibility will rest on Fort Hancock."

Gen. MacArthur is a man of repute in the army, and no doubt will give a good account of himself in this connection. There is a regretful feeling, however, that Gen. Chaffee will not be here. He is a picturesque figure in whom New Yorkers take a great deal of interest, on account of what he did in China and in the Philippines; and the announcement that he will be in command of the department of the east in the fall was received with much satisfaction. Unless he comes, however, Gen. MacArthur will be accepted as an excellent substitute, and it is possible that, in the management of these maneuvers of defense, when the navy is trying to blow him and his fort out of existence, he may prove himself as great a strategist as he has already shown himself to be a hero. A layman may make the odious comparison of one great general with another, and with all the more boldness that it would be an impossible breach of ethics on the part of a military man.

A Big Strike Likely to Win.

Greater New York has another great strike of garment workers. In Manhattan we have had strikers for some time, and as this is the busy season for the trade there is inclination of a speedy settlement. The Brooklyn garment workers, to the number of 2,500, went out this morning in sympathy with the others. They, like the men in Manhattan, demanded a 5 per cent increase in wages and a working week of 56 hours. The working week heretofore has been 59 hours. It is believed that the demands of the strikers will be granted. The contractors need all the hands they can get.

Coney's Bowery Has the Fresh Air.

It is estimated that 250,000 people went to Coney Island yesterday, and the crowd, according to many who ought to know, was the largest of the season. Every place of amusement was crowded and business was at a standstill several times during the late afternoon because of the blockade caused by the crowd, which seemed to grow larger. At the Bowery end of the island the crowd was largest and every walk leading to that thoroughfare was packed with people. Many were women and children, who went to the Bowery for a breath of fresh air. They got the odor of fried frankurters and crabs and beer. Thousands of women and children, however, who care nothing for the noise and disorder to be found at all times on the Bowery spent the day on the beach, and it was there that fresh air was to be had.

Ellis Island Isolated by Storm.

Friends of immigrants who arrived at Ellis island today had no just cause of complaint against the authorities if they happened not to receive prompt notice that they were wanted to appear and claim the travelers. Yesterday's storm put the cable connecting the island with the shore out of business and the immigration bureau is cut off from telegraph and telephone communication with the mainland. Notices of arrivals will be sent by mail to friends and relatives until the wires are again in working order.

Queens Borough Worried Too Soon.

A delgation from Queens borough, in Greater New York, called upon Mayor Low today to oppose the changing of the plans for the new Blackwells island bridge across the East river. The change would make the roadway 80 feet instead of 120 feet. Mayor Low smiled as sardonically as his good-natured face would permit and said: "I think that until you are hit you had better not worry. The plans have not been changed and no order has been given to that effect."

Sad News for Pie Eaters.

New York is threatened with a pie famine. It is on account of the pie-makers' dissatisfaction with their hours of labor and unless a radical change is made every member of the Bakers' union in the city will go out on a strike. The fight is now raging in the kitchen of the New York Pie Baking Company, where 30 union men have gone on a strike. The men have been going to work at 11:30 at night and working until about noon. They declare that the hours are too long and demand that they start to work at 7 in the morning, with a 10-hour day. The members of the company assert that their employes are the best paid pie bakers in New York, making between $19 and $22 a week. They declare that the restaurants they furnish will not take pies baked a day in advance, but insist on having them freshly made every morning. This last consideration appeals to us all, of course—I mean all New Yorkers, the most inveterate pie-eaters in the world outside of New England.

Great Funeral for a Tammany Worker.

There was a big funeral on the East Side today. What looked like the whole population of the Twenty-sixth assembly district was trying to gain an entrance to the Church of St. Catherine of Sienna. First avenue and Sixty-ninth street, this morning to pay a last homage to their dead friend, Patrick Smith. It was conceded to be the largest funeral ever witnessed on the upper East river. For many years Smith kept a saloon at Second avenue and Sixty-ninth street, where the Tammany organization of the district made its headquarters, and Smith was a member of the general committee.

When May Yohe Was Lady Francis.

When Lord Francis Hope used to wait in the wings of a New York theater for his wife a few years ago he would often say, according to theater gossip: "Now, Mayzie, dear, we are going home right after the show, aren't we?" "Part of us are," she was wont to answer. "You and the diamonds are, and I shall be along shortly."

"Beef and—" Must Stay at Ten Cents.

Quick lunch restaurant men in New York must hold their avarice in check if they mean to escape severe reprisals. Here they are, trying to raise the price of "beef-and——." Time was when this dish was peculiar to New York, but not now. You may find restaurants in every important city, from Pittsburgh to San Francisco, now-a-days, and every one knows that "beef-and——" is only a "code" for beef-and-beans. The lawful price for the dainty is 10 cents the round trip. Two big restaurant companies, which control many places, have put their heads together and decided that as beef is more costly than it was they may venture to charge 15 cents for the dish. In justice to "Dolan's," in Park row, known from Maine to California, let it be said that "Dolan's" keeps to the old schedule and, most likely, will continue to do so. If "Dolan's" or "Hitchcock's" were to raise the tariff for their staple, then would there be grief in Printing House square, indeed; but they are not likely to do so. They cherish the recollection that in the old days Horace Greely, James Gordon Bennett, the elder and other famous editors, patronized their little cubby-holes and ate "beef and——" with a relish at 10 cents a portion, and then went back to their offices and got out the best daily papers of their time. So, with them, the price will continue to be 10 cents, no matter how many of the marble-decorated and be-mirrored competitors decide to ask 15 cents for 2 cents' worth of beans and 3 cents' worth of corned beef.

Roosevelt May Take the Stump.

It is said in New York that President Roosevelt may make a few speeches for Mr. Odell when the governor begins his canvass for re-election, Senator Platt and Gov. Odell will visit President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay on Wednesday of next week by the president's invitation. It is not probable that any other guests will be asked for that day and the president, the governor and the senator will have a good chance to talk over New York state politics, in which the president, like the others, is deeply interested.

War Upon Park Caterpillars.

Caterpillars must go from the parks of Greater New York. Park Commissioner Eustis has employed a small navy of 400 sailors, who have been stationed at City island, and set them loose in the tree tops. Their first day's work netted, according to the commissioner, 16,000,000 caterpillars, more or less.

Yankee Gold for Germany.

The National City bank will ship 907 gold bars by the steamer which sails tomorrow for Bremen. The bars were taken from the assay office. The announcement of the shipment caused some surprise, although the exporting rate today, bankers said, shows a small profit. The gold, it is believed, is for a bank in Berlin.

Policeman's Zeal Rebuked.

Another of those cute little kinks in the excise law, as understood in New York. A policeman yesterday saw a bartender draw four glasses of beer in a saloon in the Bronx and carry them to a back room. The policeman went into the room and saw four men at a table, drinking. The officer picked up one of the glasses, and to make sure that the contents were beer, tasted them. He arrested the bartender. In court this morning this is what took place: "So you tasted the beer, did you?" asked the magistrate. "That's right," said the patrolman. "Well, don't you ever let me hear of you doing that again," said his honor. "If a policeman disturbed my property like that I would charge him with larceny and disorderly conduct. You have no right to touch a man's beer. He paid for it, not you. I will hold the prisoner in $1,000."

Free Kindergarten.

Wealthy women of the summer colony at Oriental Point, near New York, intend to build a free kindergarten in Mamaroneck at a cost of $10,000. They have selected a site adjoining the town hall, and a number of entertainments will be given to obtain funds for the institution. The sum of $4,500 has already been subscribed.

Erie Railroad Obstructs Trolley Line.

It was expected that Hackensack and Paterson, N. J., would be connected by trolley before the end of the month. A great deal of the track has been laid, but the Erie railroad steps in as an obstructionist. It will not allow the trolley road to cross the Erie short-cut track at Warren Point on grade, and the Saddle River township committee cannot agree on how much of the roadway it will allow depressed so that the trolley can pass under the tracks. So there is trouble in that part of Jersey. This requires taking the matter into the court of chancery, which means a delay of several months.

QUAY'S SAFE RETREAT.

Ben Sooy Tells Where and How the Senator Goes Summering.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Senator Quay's only companion on his outing will be "Ben" Sooy, the well-known fisherman and hunter who always has charge of the fishing tackle at the Quay resort in San Lucie, Fla. The senator invited a number of friends, including Congressman Connell of Scranton, to take the trip with him, but when he attempted to describe the objective point and the manner of reaching it they all declined the invitation.

"Ben" Sooy did not appear elated over the outlook to those who talked with him while he awaited the coming of Senator Quay's train.

"What is the name of the place?" he was asked.

"Don't thing it has any name," said "Ben." "We were up there last year and I didn't see any one who had a name for it. It's just a howling wilderness."

"What's the name of the nearest railroad station?"

"Ain't any near it."

"How do you get there?"

"Well, after you go as far as the cars will take you there is a stage that goes 30 or 40 miles. After that you go on a canoe 14 or 15 miles, and then walk 16 miles. Then you are there."

"You don't mean to say Senator Quay walks it?"

"Has to. There's no other way of getting there. A horse couldn't cover the road."

"Good fishing and hunting there?"

"Not much of either. I guess the 'old man' found the fellows who are looking for offices couldn't find him up there. No one can go there without carrying tents and other traps."

"Does Senator Quay carry such things?"

"Oh, no, he carries a cane. I carry most of the traps."

There was a pained expression on "Ben's" face as he made this admission, but he brightened up a little as he started for Broad Street station, saying: "I hope I won't miss the train."

HIGHEST OFFICE IN ALL ENGLAND

New Lord High Chancellor and Keeper of the Great Seal.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Among the changes announced in the English cabinet in connection with the accession to the premiership of Arthur Balfour, is the resignation by the earl of Halsbury of the office of lord high chancellor of England.

This is the highest administrative and judicial dignity of the empire. For although the lord high steward ranks as the first great officer of the crown, yet his appointment is only made by the sovereign for some specific function of state, such as for instance a coronation or the trial of a peer by the house of lords, and lapses with the termination of the particular ceremony in question. Hence the lord high chancellorship of England, although theoretically only the second of the great offices of state, is at all other times the principal temporal dignity of the empire, and on the official table of precedence its holder figures immediately after the archbishop of Canterbury, the primate of the kingdom and before the archbishop of York. In one word he is the first lay personage of the realm after the princes and princesses of the blood royal.

The lord high chancellorship is not only the most illustrious, but likewise one of the most ancient offices of the British empire, the unbroken line of holders of the dignity dating back to 1068, that is to say, two years after the Norman conquest. It carries with it a seat in the cabinet, a salary of $50,000 a year, the presidency of the house of lords, a hereditary peerage and a retiring pension of $30,000 a year—even if the woolsack has only been occupied for a few weeks—and an immense amount of patronage. Besides this the lord high chancellor is ex-officio a member of the privy council and president of all the courts of justice of the empire, which of course renders it indispensable that he should be a member of the legal profession. True, in olden times the woolsack was frequently occupied by ecclesiastics, and at times the chancellorship and the primacy of the church were held by one and the same person, among the most notable instances being St. Thomas A. Becket, Cardinal Wolsey and Archbishop Warham. But since the days of John Williams, bishop of Lincoln, who succeeded Sir Francis Bacon as lord high chancellor, the office has invariably been filled by a more or less distinguished lawyer, the woolsack being indeed regarded as the highest prize of the legal profession.

Patronage of High Chancellor.

The lord high chancellor has the appointment of all justices of the peace, as well as of all the rectors of crown or government "livings." He is the supreme guardian, ex-officio, of all infants, idiots and lunatics, and as such has the legal right to divest of the guardianship any persons who have been appointed as such by will, but who have shown themselves in his opinion to be unworthy of their trust. The court of chancery, over which he presides, has two distinct tribunals, as a court of law and as a court of equity, and as president of the latter it is by ancient statute his "high prerogative to judge according to equity, conscience and reason when he finds the law of the land so defective as that the subject would be injured thereby."

The official title of keeper of the king's conscience, which he still bears, of course dates back to the days prior to the reformation when the office of chancellor was mostly held by an ecclesiastical dignitary who was usually the sovereign's spiritual adviser, and so far as I am aware the occupant of the woolsack is the only dignitary of the realm whose killing is not punished as ordinary murder, but as treason.

No Religious Restriction.

There seems to be a general impression even in England that the lord high chancellorship must necessarily be held by a Protestant. But the late Mr. Gladstone, who at one moment thought of appointing the late Lord Chief Justice Russell, who was a devout Roman Catholic, to the post, made a careful investigation of the matter, and ascertained that there was no law, or clause of the constitution in existence to prevent the woolsack being occupied by a member of the church of Rome, or even by a Jew. Indeed, had the late Sir Charles Jessel lived there is no doubt but he would have in course of time been nominated to the lord high chancellorship and to the keepership of the king's conscience in spite of his being a professing Jew, and it was a matter of policy, rather than anything else, that prevented Lord Russell from being transferred to the woolsack.

Curiously enough the lord high chancellorship of Ireland, which is of course inferior in rank to the lord high chancellorship of England, is required by statute to be filled by a Protestant, Roman Catholics being explicitly barred. The law bearing on the subject, however, dates back to the days when religious fanaticism and bigotry were the principal source of discord and strife in the Emerald isle and it is likely to be repealed at an early date.

Keeper of the Great Seal.

The lord high chancellor is the keeper of the great seal of the British empire, which, indeed, is the principal token of his office. The great seal is the emblem of British sovereignty, and is used on all solemn occasions when the will of the monarch is to be expressed. Its impress in wax is attached to every royal charter, warrant or official document bearing the sign manual of the sovereign. It is used for all acts of state, for writs to summon parliament, for the ratification of foreign treaties, and all these documents have no legal value unless sealed with the great seal.

That is why King James II. on his flight from England deliberately dropped the great seal into the Thames, knowing that there was nothing that he could possibly do that would cause so much inconvenience to the government which had deposed him as the absence of the great seal and the impossibility, therefore, to summon parliament, or to undertake any sovereign act until a new one was engraved. If he dropped it into the river rather than take it away with him to France, it is because he felt almost certain that he would be captured before he reached the mouth of the river.

There are all sorts of laws dealing with the custody of the great seal, which is a huge silver affair, costing about $5,000. Thus an ancient statute still in force declares that it must not be taken out of the United Kingdom, and one of the offenses for which Cardinal Wolsey was impeached and punished in the reign of King Henry VIII., was that he had violated this law by taking the great seal out of the kingdom with him to France. A lord high chancellor who allows the great seal out of his own custody renders himself liable not only to removal from office, but likewise to other more serious pains and penalties. Lord Chancellor Eldon was in the habit of sleeping with the great seal under his pillow, and when on one occasion his house was destroyed by fire it was the only treasure that he thought of saving.

The great seal is kept in a very elaborate purple velvet and gold embroidered bag adorned with the royal arms of Great Britain. The state furnishes a new bag of this kind each year at a cost of $400, and the old bag then becomes the perquisite of the lord high chancellor. On all state occasions the great seal is carried in its gorgeous bag by the lord high chancellor himself, while on minor occasions it is borne before him by one of his gentlemen-in-waiting in full court dress.

Entering New Fields.

From the Richmond (Va.) News.

Some writers persist in the theory that woman is man's inferior in the very face of the fact that a number of the theoretically weaker sex near Gate City, Va., have just been arrested for stealing a horse. Horse stealing was supposed to be a distinctly masculine offense.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Minor E. Morrow.

Minor E. Morrow, a newspaper man, died yesterday morning at the home of W. S. Ripley, No. 711 Ivy street, of consumption. He was 36 years old. Mr. Morrow was born and reared in Pittsburgh. When a boy, he entered the employ of the Pittsburgh Leader. For awhile he did newspaper work in New York, but returned to Pittsburgh and worked successfully on the Press, the late Daily News and the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Mr. Morrow had never been of robust health, and the weakness of his lungs was aggravated by service in Porto Rico in Battery B during the Spanish war. He tried newspaper work in Pittsburgh after the war, but finally went to California, and in Los Angeles he became correspondent of a number of newspapers. He returned to Pittsburgh three weeks ago, with no hope of recovery. He is survived by his widow and a son. His father is Jord Morrow, a veteran of the civil war and an inmate of the Soldiers' home in Dayton, O. Mr. Morrow was a member of Allegheny lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E., and of Capt. Alfred E. Hunt camp, service men of the Spanish war.

Mrs. Mary M. Emery.

Mrs. Mary Morrison Emery, widow of Attorney John A. Emery, is dead at her late home, No. 52 Sheridan street, Bellevue. She was a daughter of the late John Morrison, former mayor of Allegheny, and a granddaughter of the late Hugh Davis. She was married to Mr. Emery in 1872. Her husband was killed by a train two years ago. She is survived by one brother, Col. R. S. Morrison of Denver, Col., and three sisters, Mrs. Hannah W. Donnell, Miss Martha Marshall Morrison and Miss Anne Coleman Morrison, all residing in Allegheny, and two sons, Attorney John A. Emery and R. Eason Emery, and one daughter, Mrs. Thomas W. Fitch, Jr.

Mrs. Sarah A. Peterson.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Peterson, widow of Benjamin F. Peterson, aged 85, died yesterday at 2:30 a. m. at the Episcopal Church home, Penn avenue and Fortieth street. Mrs. Peterson had resided in Allegheny nearly all her life and was a member of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church of Pittsburgh. A few weeks ago she fell and dislocated her hip and since that time has never been well. Mrs. Peterson is survived by four children, Mrs. G. A. Mammell of Castle Shannon, Mrs. Amelia Hough of Aspinwall, Mrs. W. H. Myer of Sharpsburg, and Charles A. Peterson of Allegheny.

James Wilkinson.

BEAVER, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—James Wilkinson died at his home here today, aged 79. He was born in Moon township, Allegheny county, in 1823, and later moved with his parents to Pittsburgh. He served in the war with Mexico and later went to California, where he made a fortune. In 1864 he was married to Miss Eliza M. Hazlett of Pittsburgh, and located in Beaver in 1871. He is survived by one son, Attorney R. A. Wilkinson, of Beaver.

Dr. S. B. Bishop.

Dr. Samuel Barkley Bishop, a well-known dentist, is dead at his late home, No. 705 St. Clair street, of heart disease. He was born in Brookfield, Pa., and graduated in dentistry from the University of Pennsylvania. He came to Pittsburgh 10 years ago and took an office in Penn avenue. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. J. A. McKelvey, and one son, Dr. W. Bishop.

Maj. C. B. Fasnact.

LANCASTER, PA., July 21.—Maj. C. H. Fasnact, for 15 years search clerk in the department of internal affairs at Harrisburg, died at his home in this city today after a long illness from a complication of diseases. He was 60 years old.

George W. McClelland.

George W. McClelland, aged 49, is dead at his late home in Grant street, Elma. He had been borough clerk of Elma 10 years and was connected with the Spang-Chalfant company. He leaves a widow and two children.

Obituary Notes.

William W. Peters, a well-known painter, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 80 Wyoming street. He is survived by his widow and children. Mr. Peters was 69 years old.

Joseph Caldwell, formerly of Lawrenceville, who has been an inmate of the Home for Aged Men in Wilkinsburg for 10 years, died yesterday morning of old age. He was 88 years old and had never been married.

PERSONALS.

"The change in feeling among the people of Germany generally, as evidenced by the friendly spirit of the newspapers in that country toward the United States, since the recent visit of Prince Henry to this country, has been most remarkable," said Karl Breidenstein, an attorney of Frankfort-on-the-Main, who was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited last evening. Accompanied by an American, Mr. Breidenstein is touring the United States. He has just arrived in this country from Germany and has been in touch with German ideas. "Statesmen do well when they count upon a more or less showy event like Prince Henry's visit to produce effect. When every effort was made to treat Prince Henry as became the crown prince of the German empire, it could not fail of appreciation in his own country. I have no doubt that this will result in greater comity between the two nations. It has surely helped to wipe away memories of the rather unpleasant relations existing during the late Spanish-American war."

"My trip to Pittsburgh is to escape the heat," said R. C. Middleton, a business man of Montgomery, Ala., who is at the Lincoln. "People from my section of the country who can arrange to do so all leave for the next month, and any place as far north as this city is far more comfortable than Alabama. For southern people generally, however, the favorite resort is the mountain region of North Carolina. They claim, with some justice, that this is the finest summer resort in the world."

Frank A. Brobst of the Lincoln and Mrs. Brobst will make another start this morning on their proposed 1,000-mile automobile trip around Lake Erie, already described in The Gazette. Heavy rains had so soaked the roads about Rochester, Pa., that the trip was abandoned temporarily at that point last week. The normal condition of the roads has again been reached and the new start is expected to be more successful.

Among the passengers east on the fast line of the Pennsylvania last evening were John I. Shaw of this city; J. C. Miller, vice president of the Duncan & Miller Glass Company of Washington, Pa., and A. C. Heisey, a glass manufacturer of Newark, O.

Col. Willis J. Hullings of Oil City, commander of the Sixteenth regiment, N. G. P., and George C. Sturgiss of Morgantown, W. Va., one of the most prominent lawyers of his state, are registered at the Monongahela.

Dr. W. H. Crawford and family are at the Lincoln. Dr. Crawford is president of Allegheny college at Meadville.

Among the guests at the Henry are Hugh W. Dixon of Liverpool and E. H. Curtis of London, England.

LESS READING, MORE SPEAKING THIS CAMPAIGN

Republican Spellbinders to Be Heard in Every Close District.

CHAIRMAN BABCOCK'S IDEA

Few Congressional Speeches Will Be Circulated. Among Them the Tirades of Tillman and Wheeler of Kentucky—Trained Forces.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 903 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.

Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee is speeding eastward after a trip to Wisconsin, to establish headquarters in New York city for the coming campaign. He will be joined in a few days by Secretary Overstreet and other members of the executive committee, and the work of the committee will begin promptly.

As he came through Chicago Chairman Babcock announced the general outline of the work for the campaign. He said the literary feature of this campaign would be subordinated to speech-making. Probably not more than a dozen speeches in congress will be circulated, embracing the subjects of tariff, trusts and the Philippines. The number of copies of each speech sent out will range from 50,000 to 200,000, while in former campaigns 500,000 copies was a small order. Two Democratic speeches, by Tillman and Wheeler of Kentucky, he announced, would be circulated by the Republicans, to show the Democratic animus on certain topics.

The Republican handbook will not be out for several weeks, and it will be designated mainly for the use of the army of orators who will be put into the field. A speakers' bureau is to be established in New York, probably in charge of Col. Henry Casson. It will be the aim of this bureau to provide stump speakers for every district and county where the Republicans purpose to make a fight.

There will be labor orators for New Jersey and Pennsylvania; anti-trust orators for agricultural districts; German, Scandinavian and Italian orators.

Persons in close touch with Chairman Babcock and his associates of the executive committee say the Republican managers are confident of winning the campaign. They know where the congressional seats are to be obtained and how they will go about it to get them.

The Republican management has had ample experience. Practically the same men now in control have won four consecutive congressional battles. Their forces are well organized in every district. In many of the states, it is said, the same machinery is in existence which did the work six and eight years ago.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

THE PENSION ROLL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The following pensions were granted today:

Pennsylvania—Joseph Painter, Vandergrift, $8; Jesse Williams, Huntingdon, $6; Charles A. A. Zeigler, Dubois, $10; William Isenberg, Fort Royal, $12; William Helckemp, Penn Mills, $30; John J. CHAUTAUQUA.

A Japanese Lecturer Says an Oriental War Soon Is Almost Certain.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 21.—(Special.)—Of all the courses of lectures begun today the one attracting the most general interest is that of Dr. I. Yenaga of Japan on the Far East. The subject of this first lecture was "Japan and Russia." The speaker said in part:

"Unless a definite settlement of problems of the far east is thought out, war is certain, and the whole civilized world may be compelled to share in the conflict. The people of the far east are made up of more than a score of races, but those who attract most attention are the Russians, the Japanese and Chinese. The first, like the glacier, is slow, but with constantly increasing force is making its way from the Arctic to the sunny south; the second, like the comet, suddenly appears in the political firmament of the far east and announces the dawn of a new era; the third, that immense, inert mass of humanity, the antediluvian of nations, like a dragon cuddled up in the center of the east, still enjoys its dreamy slumber, only now and then disturbed by the ants and flies that feed upon its scales.

"Then there are the white men of the west, the French, the English and the Americans. These, while intruders, wield such a tremendous influence that upon them hangs the destiny of the far east. Thus the problem of Asia becomes a problem of the world.

"The representatives of Russia at the courts of Japan and China are born diplomats. They know how to tickle the vainglorious Japanese, to captivate the lucre-loving Chinese, to fatten the already swollen stomachs of Chinese mandarins, like the late Li Hung Chang, and to intimidate the timid Koreans. From time time of Peter the Great the Russians have sought an outlet to the Pacific ocean. By her intervention in the China-Japan war she became the protector of China against what is called her aggressive foe, and as a result built a railroad right through the heart of Manchuria to connect with her great Siberian railway, and then secured the lease of Port Arthur.

"A clash or misunderstanding is bound to come soon, and I think when the time for settlement arrives the United States of America will be the friend of the Japanese."

Society

THE United States Daughters of 1812, who are in Pittsburgh, were very happy yesterday. They were pleased over the receipt of a letter addressed to Mrs. Robert T. Reineman, secretary of the Pennsylvania society, Daughters of 1812, and signed by William A. Moody, secretary of the navy, thanking the society for its courtesy and accepting its generous gift of a silver loving cup to be presented to the new United States cruiser Pennsylvania, now building in the Cramps shipyards. The letter was received by Mrs. Reineman last week, just before her departure for Beaumaris, Canada.

The loving cup was ordered and on exhibition at the time of the annual meeting of the state society at the Hotel Henry the latter part of May. It is a very handsome cup, about a foot in height, bearing on one side the insignia and name of the society, the opposite side having the inscription of presentation. The cup was shown during the luncheon which the Dolly Madison chapter gave in honor of the visiting state society and was greatly admired by the Daughters then and later, when it appeared in the window of a prominent jeweler down town.

The United States cruiser Pennsylvania which is slowly taking on the form of a man-of-war in Cramps' shipyards on the Delaware will not be ready for launching for over a year. Miss Quay, a daughter of Senator M. S. Quay of Beaver and a member of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has been selected to christen the boat, which will bear the proud name of the Keystone State, an honor which all Pittsburgh Daughters of the American Revolution and of 1812 appreciate. Mrs. Sullivan Johnson is president of the Pennsylvania society, United States Daughters of 1812, presenting the cup, and Mrs. Robert Reineman, secretary.

Mr. Phipps' Gift Almost Ready.

Mr. Henry Phipps will return from Europe in the early fall to inspect the new playground and the gymnasium which is being erected in Rebecca street and South avenue, Allegheny, for the use of the residents and school children of the Fifth ward. The grounds and buildings are expected to be ready for use October 1. The playground will be opened when the school year begins. It consists of a tract of land 275 feet square, formerly the home of Mr. Phipps. The gymnasium, which is up as far as the first story, is to cost $100,000. The grounds are surrounded by a stone wall high enough to resist any flood, and will be surmounted by an ornamental iron fence. All forms of out-door amusements will be provided for in the playgrounds, which will be opened at a cost of $75,000. The property is not to be turned over to the school board for a couple of years. Mr. Phipps having decided to bear the expense of its maintenance during that period, and after it has proven to be in good running order and a success the transfer will be made to the school board of the Fifth ward, Allegheny.

Social Side of the Golf Tournament.

The society women of Chicago rallied to the support of the members of the Glenview Golf club last week during the annual amateur golf championship contest. The visitors were royally entertained, both at the club house and the country houses in the vicinity. The daily 5 o'clock tea at the club house was made much of by the members and by the visitors, and the presence of hosts of beautiful women, exquisitely gowned, gave to the function the daily event. Each evening there were dinners in honor of the visiting players, who were made to enjoy every minute of the time. Six of the best of Pittsburghs golfers qualified and Pittsburgh contributed much to the interest in the contest for championship. E. M. Byers barely failing to bring home the cup to the Allegheny Country club. The Pittsburgh men to qualify were E. M. Byers, George Ormiston, W. C. Carnegie, O. D. Thompson, C. B. Fownes and H. C. Fownes.

At the Summer Resorts.

Mrs. William J. Crawford of Oakland avenue and her two sons, Stanley and Robert Crawford, have gone to Mountain Lake for the summer. Miss Adelaide Thomas of the East End is Mrs. Crawford's guest at Mountain Lake.

Mrs. C. I. McKee goes the last of the week to Watch Hill, R. I., where she will visit Mrs. Frank Bailey Nimick.

Mrs. Adah S. Thomas of Denniston avenue, East End, expects to spend August in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Reineman of Shadyside and their daughter, Miss Florence Reineman, have gone to Beaumaris for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh and their children are among the Pittsburgh people who will spend August at Beaumaris, Canada.

Excursion on the Mayflower.

An excursion and concert will be given this evening on the steamer Mayflower, under the direction of Miss Henrietta I. Smith of Rebecca street, East End. After the concert there will be dancing. The soloists who will present the program tonight will be Miss Mabel Grundy and Miss Millie Grundy, violin and cornet; Miss Nellie Grier, Mrs. Pearl Hessler and Miss Mary Hagan, soprano; Miss Lois Neely and Harry Henry, readers. The Waldron male quartet will sing.

The boat is announced to leave the foot of Market street at 8 o'clock, returning at 11:30.

Off for Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Horne, Miss Helen Horne, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Earle, Miss Helen Earle, Mrs. Cyrus Clarke, Jr. and Miss Clarke compose a party of Allegheny people who leave today for Cleveland, there to take one of the Carnegie steamers for Duluth. They will make the trip in one of the big ore steamers specially built by the Carnegie company for transporting ore from the mines to the mills. They will be away about two weeks.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Boiler Makers Mixing Business and Pleasure—Brigantine Beach Season Opens.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 21.—The fourteenth annual convention of the American Boilermakers' association was opened this morning at the Royal Palace hotel, about 150 members attending, including James Lappan, J. W. Morrison and Robert Munroe of Pittsburgh. The convention will continue until Wednesday and much pleasure will be interspersed with its work. Tonight the delegates were entertained at a dance and a cake-walk in the Royal Palace casino.

Brigantine Beach Season Opens.

The season at Brigantine Beach opened today, when ferry service across the inlet was resumed and trolley cars on the other side were put in operation. Many visitors to Atlantic City improved the opportunity to see the sights of Brigantine and gather shells and sea grasses washed up by the tides.

IN TIME FOR CORONATION.

Crowninshield's Squadron Sails from Norway for England.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—Admiral Crowinshield sailed yesterday from Christiania, Norway, for Chatham, England, with the European squadron, consisting of the Chicago, San Francisco and Illinois. The Illinois will go into dry dock at Chatham immediately on her arrival, that the injuries she sustained when she grounded at Christiania may be repaired. The admiral will arrive in England in ample time for the coronation ceremonies, August 9, and if invited to attend the naval demonstration probably will be present with the Chicago.

This information was contained in a cable dispatch from Admiral Crowinshield received today: Court of inquiry on the grounding of the Illinois clears commanding and other officers and crew of all blame and commends the prompt execution of orders for the safety of ship."

No Danger of Pittsburgh Club Jumping to American League

PITTSBURGH IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR PIRATES

President Dreyfuss Put His Foot Down on a Silly Report.

WILL STICK RIGHT HERE

The Club Owner Says There Is Not the Least Danger of His Doing Any Jumping—Tommy Leach Was Injured on Sunday.

There is not the least bit of danger of the Pittsburgh club jumping from the National to the American league, and the reports which are traveling through the country to that effect are dreams pure and simple, without the slightest foundation of truth to them. This is the declaration of President Dreyfuss, who should know something of the matter.

There was a story prevalent yesterday which traveled all the way from St. Louis in which it was stated that there was a probability of the Pittsburgh club taking the Baltimore club's franchise in the American league and that the Pirates would be transferred to Baltimore to finish the season and then march on to New York and furnish a formidable opposition to Andrew Freedman and "Muggsy" McGraw in Gotham. The report caused some speculation in baseball circles and was being discussed when Mr. Dreyfuss put in an appearance and promptly put his foot down on it.

Pittsburgh is Quite Good Enough.

"I haven't noticed," said the Pirates' president, "where Ban Johnson is offering me any money to guard against financial losses sure to be incurred in a move of that kind. However, I have nothing against Ban Johnson, as he never done me any harm, but I wish it to be understood that I am not a jumper, and besides, Pittsburgh has treated both myself and the team royally, and the old town is quite good enough for me. A move such as is talked of there would be a foolish one, and I am not a candidate for the foolish house just at present."

President Dreyfuss accompanied his champions over to Chicago Saturday night and got out of the Windy City just as soon as he could, because the weather was something awful, being both wet and cold, and as he is not a well man anyhow, he did not care to take any chances on pneumonia and such things. Mr. Dreyfuss saw that 12-inning game on Sunday and says it was beyond question the most weird display of baseball he ever looked at.

He confirms the statement that there were fully 22 men on the lines when the Chicago base runners were tied up on the lines. Mr. Dreyfuss says the display was a laughable one because players who had no business near the diamond got mixed up in the play. Among others were Ritchey and O'Connor, and he asserts that Wagner and Beaumont chased Miller up and down the line between first and second base when neither one of them had the ball, but made bluffs that they had.

Tommy Leach Was Injured.

The home run hit by Honus Wagner, Mr. Dreyfuss says, was one of the longest and hardest hits he ever saw. The ball went on a fly to the Chicago clubhouse, and just how far that is can be imagined when it is known that the Chicago grounds are the longest in the country and the clubhouse is at the farthest end. He says that had the clubhouse not been in the way the ball would still be going.

Mr. Dreyfuss brings back word that Tommy Leach injured himself by slipping on the wet grass on Sunday and he will be given a week to rest up. Burke going to third. It may be that Leach will be all right before a week, and if he is, he will go in. There was no intention to play a game yesterday, as Selee's team is in too bad shape, and the postponed game goes over until September. Manager Clarke went to Des Moines on Sunday night to see his parents and to look over some of his property, which is in a flooded district, but he will join the team in St. Louis today.

WAS ONE-SIDED.

Brooklyn Took an Easy Fall Out of the Quakers.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The game between Brooklyn and Philadelphia at Washington park, Brooklyn, today was one-sided, the home team winning by the score of 10 to 1. The fielding of the winning side was errorless and their batting was good and well timed. The loose work of the visitors in the field was responsible for the big difference in the totals. The score:

FITZ FINALLY REACHES FRISCO

THE AUSTRALIAN IS IN FINE SHAPE FOR THE BATTLE.

Will Finish Training Near Scene of the Fight—Champion Jeffries, Who Is Also In Fine Form, Is Heavy Favorite in the Betting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The arrival of Fitzsimmons from Skaggs Springs has had the effect of stimulating interest in his coming contest with Jeffries and this week will doubtless be a most exciting one in sporting circles. The Cornishman will finish his training in this city, exercising at the Olympic club and doing his road work in Golden Gate park. He looks to be in good condition.

The possibility of any ill effects that he may suffer, due to the sudden change of climate in his training locations, does not worry Fitz in the least. He thinks that his present condition is proof against the rigors that any San Francisco climate can offer. His opinion is shared by Trainer George Dawson, who states that the cool air, even though it be laden with moisture, will act as a bracer and do Fitzsimmons a world of good.

Champion Jeffries did practically no work on Sunday. When asked what he would do today he said: "In the morning I will take to the road with my brother and Joe Kennedy. My work will be light. In the afternoon I'll go to the gymnasium and box with my partners and punch the bag. I will work right up to Friday, but my work will not amount to much. You see I am ready to go into the ring at a moment's notice and make the fight of my life. My training is practically over and when the time comes I will make good everything I have promised."

In the pool rooms there appears no limit to the sum the public is willing to stake on Jeffries or Fitzsimmons to win. The betting is at the ratio of 10 to 4½. Jeffries having the long end.

A brisk run through Golden Gate park to the ocean beach and a spirited plunge and rub-down at the terminal training quarters filled in a busy morning for Robert Fitzsimmons today. The Cornishman ran 11 miles with bell trainers, tiring them all and showing himself to be in splendid condition. "The stories as to my leg muscles being bound," said Fitzsimmons today, "are absurd and false. I never felt better and stronger than now, and I shall win the fight."

Jeffries spent a day practically in idleness, exercising just enough to hold his own. "I will win the fight before it has run its length," said he to press representatives.

Since the arrival of Fitzsimmons the betting has stimulated, but the champion remains the favorite at 10 to 4½, with Fitzsimmon seemingly unable to cut down the odds. Much money, however, is being posted.

DAY OF ACCIDENTS.

Horses and Jockeys Injured at Harlem Opening.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Numerous accidents marked the opening of the summer meeting of the Chicago Jockey club at Harlem today. In the steeplechase over the short course, five of the six horses fell. The mare, Queenship, was killed, her neck being broken in the fall. Jockey Taylor, who rode Farrell, was badly bruised about the body, but he will recover. The other five jockeys escaped unhurt. When the accident occurred the horses were bunched, with the exception of Icenia, the extreme outsider, who was nearly a quarter of a mile behind. When the others went down, it left Icenia master of the situation, and he finished alone. Jockeys Worthington and Dupee, who escaped uninjured, remounted Dagmar and Helen Paxton, and finished a length apart for second money.

In the first race Jockey Mathews was painfully injured by being thrown over Ice King's head. Mathews was picked up unconscious and had to be carried to the jockey room on a stretcher. Weather fine; track deep and holding. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Duellist, 99, Hoar, 7 to 1, won; Lady Idris, 100, T. Dean, 50 to 1, second; Scorpio, 105, Coburn, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:18 4-5. Carrigan, Champagne, Gum Honey, Thurles, also ran. Ice King broke down.

Second race, 5 furlongs—Gregor K., 103, Ransch, 12 to 5, won; Topsoil, 107, Coburn, 9 to 5, second; Courage, 100, Hoar, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:06 3-5. Horatius, Lemco, La Bellarius, King Hammon, Zambo, Alice Cary, Cammembert also ran.

Third race, steeplechase, short course—Iceni, 152 G. Wilson, 20 to 1, won; Dagmar, 139, Worthington, 3 to 1, second; Helen Paxton, 122, Dupee, 13 to 5, third. Time, 4:08. Queenship, Globe II. and Farrell all fell.

Fourth race, Competition stakes, 5½ furlongs—Shooting Star, 107, Troxler, 6 to 1, won; Faherin, 105, J. Ransch, 4 to 1, second; Watkins Overton, 103, J. Miller, 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:13 2-5. Tom Cogan, Will Shelly also ran.

Emperor Buys Uncle Sam.

BERLIN, July 21.—Special telegrams received here from Kiel confirm the report that Emperor William has bought Francis R. Riggs' 30-foot yacht Uncle Sam, winner of the Kaiser's gold cup. His majesty intends to sail her in the 1903 regattas without competing for prizes.

Rain Prevented Grand Circuit Races.

CLEVELAND, O., July 21.—The Grand Circuit trotting races at the Glenville track, scheduled for today, were postponed on account of rain.

Hiberuians Will Incorporate.

DENVER, COL., July 21.—It has been decided by the national board of directors of the Ancient Order of Hibernians to incorporate each state division of the order. President Dolan was authorized to act as the agent of the order in the United States, Canada and Mexico, in arranging the details of affiliation with other continental bodies of similar character.

HAD RULES ALTERED.

Chess Masters Start Play Under the Monte Carlo System of Drawing.

HANOVER, PRUSSIA, July 21.—The chess players today asked the committee to alter the rule of playing the international masters' tournament in the order as prescribed by the Berger schedule, as it would be easy for every competitor to prepare himself for each day's play, if he knew beforehand whom he would have to meet. The players advised the committee to adopt the Monte Carlo style of drawing each day for the particular round to be played on that day, and the committee decided to adopt the latter plan. Round 14 of the Berger system was drawn for today and this brought the contestants together in the following order: Mieses vs. Marshall, Popiel vs. Wolf, Swiderski vs. Gulsberg, Mason vs. Atkins, Leven vs. Napier, Cohn vs. Bardeleben, Gottschall vs. Janowski, Tschigorin vs. Pillsbury and Schlechter vs. Olland.

Play began early this morning and when an adjournment took place at 1 p. m. Marshall had gone down before Mieses and Popiel had lost to Wolf. All the adjourned games stood pretty even, with the exception of the contests between Gottschall and Janowski and Tschigorin and Pillsbury. The Parisian and American had so-called won games in hand.

In the afternoon session the following additional results were registered: Swiderski and Gunsberk divided honors, Mason fell a victim to Atkins, Levin and Napier adjourned their game a second time, much in favor of the former; Cohn lost to Bardeleben, Gottschall was worsted by Janowski, Tschigorin managed to escape with a draw with Pillsbury, who really ought to have won, and Buechting suffered a defeat at the hands of Olland.

The second round is scheduled for tomorrow.

WILDCAT WELL IS A GOOD PRODUCER

Two miles in advance of developments in the northwest end of the Pine Grove district, Wetzel county, W. Va. E. H. Jennings & Bors. have drilled in a wildcat on the Amos Sidel farm and have a good producer in the Gordon sand. The well produced 100 barrels the first 24 hours, and its location indicates a probable connecting up of the old Rockey Run district and the Pine Grove development. If the theory holds good it will open up a considerable area of new territory. It was not the intention to drill this well in at once. The contractor was instructed to drill to the top of the sand and shut down. The top of the sand had scarcely been tapped when the well began to gas heavily and within an hour had drilled itself in and was flowing.

In the older part of the Pine Grove development, L. S. Hoyt & Co. have drilled in their No. 59 on the L. S. Hoyt tract and it produced 200 barrels the first 24 hours.

On Richwood run the Philadelphia Company has drilled its No. 17 on the John Mills tract through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 200 feet with fluid. It may improve with a shot.

In the Folsom district, near the Marion and Wetzel county line, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its test well on the L. V. Martin farm. The well flowed for the first 24 hours was 50 barrels from the Gordon. In the same district No. 8 on the Genine Robinson farm has been completed in the Gordon and is producing 100 barrels a day.

A Good Producer.

Two miles northeast of Salem, Harrison county, Gartland & O'Day Bros.' No. 2 on the E. W. Custer farm is a fine producer. The production for the 24 hours ending at 5 o'clock last evening was 345 barrels.

In Tyler county, at the headwaters of Walnut Fork, the Philadelphia Company's test well on the Peter Tennant farm has been completed and is good for 20 barrels a day from the Big Injun.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the Southern Oil Company and Gartlan have completed a test on the M. V. Snyder farm and have a 75-barrel pumper. In the same county east of the Folsom district in Wetzel county, the Delmar Oil Company has recovered the tools from its test well on the Wm. G. Ice farm and is now drilling near the top of the Gordon. This company is drilling and starting a dozen wells in that locality.

In the "Little Germany" district the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the Rolfe Hall farm and has a natural producer good for 65 barrels a day.

On Big Knot run, Ritchie county, the gauge of the Three Jacks Oil Company's pusher on the Elroy Wisner farm for the 24 hours ending yesterday morning at 7 o'clock was 450 barrels. This was the smallest day's production since the well was drilled in more than three weeks ago.

Near Petroleum, Ritchie county, Stiles Bros. have completed No. 32 on the Volcano Oil & Coal tract and have a small producer in the salt sand.

In the same district on the West Virginia oil and coal tract, Cuthbert & Carroll have completed No. 42 and have a light pumper in the Big Injun.

Destructive Lightning.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, Sunday afternoon the lightning struck the rig at well No. 2 on the Nathan Shepherd farm. The rig, three 50-barrel tanks and about 200 barrels of oil were consumed. The tools were hanging in the hole and when the cable burnt off they dropped to the bottom. On the same day the rig and two tanks at Flannigan No. 2 in the Wolf Summit field were lost in the same manner. Loss than 100 barrels of oil was lost at this well.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side nothing better than small pumpers were drilled in and completed.

In the Jackson Ridge development in Monroe county, the Fisher Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the N. E. Twinem farm and has a 5-barrel Keener sand pumper.

In the same district, Keegan, Smith & Co. have the same kind of a pumper at their No. 3 on the John Craig farm.

In the Graysville district F. P. Hue & Co. have completed No. 2 on the O. C. Highman farm and will have a small pumper.

In the Keener sand development the Unity Oil Company's No. 1 on the E. J. Harper farm is holding up at 115 barrels a day. No. 2 is producing 80 barrels, and Nos. 1 Jones and Kotter farms, 65 and 70 barrels a day respectively.

In the Chester Hill district, Morgan county, Lowry & Co. have completed their test well on the A. J. Dougherty farm and have a strong gasser in the Big Injun. The location of this well is two miles south of the test well on the Joel Morris farm, drilled last week.

In the Corning district, Perry county, the Ohio Oil Company has completed No. 1 on the Beaver farm and has a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Wilking district, Washington county, Trapp & Co. have completed a test on the Knepper farm and have a duster.

In Harrison county the Ricker Oil Company has completed No. 2 on the Martin Kennedy farm and have a duster.

In the same district, M. Spellacy has completed a test on his own farm and has a 5-barrel pumper. The Holiday Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the E. G. Holliday farm and has a small well.

Good Local Producer.

In the Crows Run district, Beaver county, Pa., Snyder & Co. have drilled in their No. 3 on the Baker heirs' farm and has the best producer found in local territory for many months. The last 10 hours ending at 8 o'clock yesterday morning the well produced 215 barrels.

Near the Butler and Allegh ny county line, south of the old Montgomery field, Eisler & O'Brien's No. 1 on the Samuel Schwab farm is producing at the rate of 50 barrels a day.

FRANK KRAMER DEFENDS HIS CHAMPION TITLE

Won Last Night's Race After a Warm Struggle With Lawson.

RAIN SPOILED THE RACES

No Records Were Broken, Although Contests Were Close and Exciting. Percy Brown Wins Amateur Event. Consolation Race Today.

The Colosseum contained an audience of fully 2,500 people last evening, the attraction being 12 of the most prominent professional bicycle riders of the national circuit, including Frank Kramer, the present champion; Iver Lawson of Salt Lake, who has just returned from Europe; "Plugger Bill" Martin, who has made a record in Australia; F. S. Beachamp, a champion rider from Australia; Eddie Bald, the one-time champion, and Lester Wilson of Pittsburgh, who has many times displayed his winning powers on the professional track.

At 8 o'clock, just as the first event was about to be started, the rain, which had been threatening for some time, commenced to drizzle down and a delay of 10 or 15 minutes occurred. As soon as it ceased an examination of the track was made and it was decided to change the order of events somewhat and start with the first heat of the amateur novice race of half a mile, in order to try the track before the professional race. After this beat the regular order was followed until the last event, the consolation lap race of one mile for professionals, when the rain interfered and it was decided to hold it over until this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it will be free to all.

Poor Track Caused Slow Time.

Owing to the condition of the track the time made was not very good and no records were broken; the races, however, were very close, as a rule at the finish and excited considerable enthusiasm from the crowd.

The one-third-mile professional circuit championship was won by Frank L. Kramer in 40 seconds, and the professional half-mile handicap, the record for which, 54 4-5, is held by Kramer, was won by Saxon Williams in 58 seconds. The half-mile novice race was won by J. Wesley McCue, who made his first appearance on the track, in 1:09, and the one-mile amateur handicap by Percy Brown in 2:22 1-5.

The first heat, one-third-mile circuit championship, in which E. C. Bald of Buffalo, G. C. Schreiber of New York and W. Martin of Australia, started was won by Bald, with Martin a close second. Time, 42 3-5 seconds. Bald took the lead from the start, and was never once headed, and there was very little difference between the riders at any time.

Lester Wilson of Pittsburgh, O. S. Kimble of Louisville, and Iver Lawson of Salt Lake City, contested in the second heat, which was won by Kimble in 41 seconds, with Lawson second. The riders were punched all through the heat, and Kimball won by scarcely a wheel's length.

The Finish Was Fine.

Frank L. Kramer of East Orange, N. J.; Saxon Williams of New Haven, Conn., and G. H. Collett of New Haven, Conn., were in the third heat, and Kramer won out, after a very fine finish, in 41 2-5 seconds. He was pushed very close by Saxon Williams, who won the first lap, but for whom the pace was too rapid, and he had to yield second place to Collett.

In the fourth heat F. S. Beauchamp of Australia, John Bedell of Lynnbrook, L. I., and J. F. Jacobson made a very pretty race and struggled hard for first place, but Bedell had a slight lead from the start and retained it throughout, winning in 44 seconds, with Jacobsen second.

Bald, Martin, Lawson and Kimble were pitted against each other in the first semi-finals, and after a bad start, in which Martin had a spill after going but a few yards, they were again sent away with Kemble in the lead, which he retained to the finish, with Lawson a good second. Time, 39 4-5 seconds.

The second semi-finals brought out Bedell, Jacobson, Kramer and Collett, and it was won by Kramer in 41 4-5 seconds, Collett being a very close second.

This brought out Kimble, Kramer, Lawson and Collett for the final heat. The men had a good start and kept closely together, Collett pushing Kramer very hard and winning the first lap, but Kramer proved to be too fast for the others and won in 40 seconds; Lawson second, Kimble third and Collett fourth.

The Amateurs Were At It.

The first heat of the amateur novice of one-half mile was won by J. W. McCue an the second by J. S. Pauline, David Molsseed, who started with him, meeting with an accident in the breaking of his wheel chain, retiring after the first lap. The final was won by McCue in 1:09, Burgum and Pauline following.

Percy Brown, Harry Bupp, C. C. Hartman and W. Fisher were in the first heat of the one-mile amateur handicap, and Percy Brown carried off the honors in 2:21. Harry Brown, W. Hofeldt, Charles Rell and D. Molseed contested in the second heat, which Harry Brown won in 2:07. In the final heat Harry Brown, Percy Brown, Rell and Hartman gave a splendid exhibition of amateur riding and it was a close race to the finish, with Percy Brown in the lead at the close and Harry Brown scarcely a length in the rear.

The first heat of the one-half mile handicap for professionals was won by Lawson in 1:02 1-5, the second by Williams in :59 and the third by Beauchamp in :57 4-5. The final was won by Williams in :58.

There were several spills among the amateurs during the evening owing to the rain which occasionally interfered with the sport and made the track very slippery, but no one was injured. The professional consolation race had to be called off until this afternoon on account of the condition of the track, although the men mounted their wheels and made a weak attempt to go around the track to win the purses.

THE GRAND CIRCUIT.

Races Will Start at Cleveland and Great Going Expected.

CLEVELAND, O., July 21.—If it does not rain tomorrow afternoon the track at Glenville will then be in magnificent condition for the first day of the grand circuit races, and exceedingly fast time may be looked for. In consequence of the rain and mud today the track was not open, and the trainers were compelled to work out their fast ones upon wagon roads in the vicinity. The largest number of horses ever present at a grand circuit meeting are here tonight, stables a quarter of a mile away being filled.

Tuesday's program will begin with a 2:14 trot. Maj. Delmer, who won the 2:15 trot at Detroit, will be the favorite. In the 2:09 pace Ed Geers' sidewheeler, Fred S. Wedgewood, will be the favorite. The 2:27 trot will contain a numebr of youngsters. Directum Spier is considered the fastest entry, and in the 2:20 pace Dandy Chimes is expected to land the money.

In the matter of the petition of Sarah Greaves for the release and discharge of mortgage from Thomas Spencer to John Hollcroft, recorded in deed book, volume Q. 16, page 382. Take notice that the petition of Sarah Greaves filed Saturday, June 28, 1902, at the above number and term, respectfully represents, That petitioner is the owner in fee simple of all that certain tract or piece of ground situate in Baldwin township, Allegheny county, and state of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a pin in the center of a road 20 feet wide at corner of lot of ground conveyed by Thomas W. Price, et. ux., to Monte, by deed dated August 25, 1870; thence by the center of said road north 22 degrees, 30 minutes east, seven and ninety-hundredths perches to a mark on rock in center of said road; thence by the center of said road north 82 degrees, 0 minutes east, eighteen and ninety-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road, south 82 degrees, 45 minutes east, six and two-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 40 degrees, 30 minutes east, twelve and eighty-nine hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 28 degrees, 0 minutes east, twelve and seventy-nine hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 34 degrees, 2 minutes east, seven and sixteen-hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence by the center of said road south 46 degrees, 20 minutes east, nineteen and eighty hundredths perches to a pin in the center of said road; thence south 37 degrees, 15 minutes west, seven and forty-eight hundredths perches to a pin; thence south 87 degrees, 15 minutes west, forty-seven and sixteen hundredths perches to a pin; thence north two degrees, 0 minutes west, thirty and two one hundredths perches to a pin, and thence north 44 degrees, 32 minutes west, twelve and twenty-seven hundredths perches to a pin at the place of beginning, containing three acres and one hundred and one thousandth (11,302-1,000) acres. That said property (inter alia) is encumbered by the lien of a certain mortgage dated December 2, 1899, and recorded in the recorder's office of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, in deed book, volume Q. 16, page 382, having been given (inter alia) upon the property above described by Thomas Spencer to John Hollcroft of Washington county, Pennsylvania, to secure the payment of two hundred and fifty-one hundredth dollars ($200 50) to said John Hollcroft by Thomas Spencer, on or before the 1st day of October, 1899, with lawful interest for the same from the 30th day of September, 1899. That no payment of principal or interest has been made either in full or on account of said mortgage, and that more than twenty-one years past has the present owner of the above described premises or so far as can be ascertained by any of her predecessors in title, and that petitioner has no knowledge of any person or parties interested in said mortgage. That no release of the premises above described from said mortgage nor any acquittance or acknowledgement of payment thereof or on account thereof is of record in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. Wherefore your petitioner prays your honorable court after notice given according to law, to decree and direct that the above described premises be released and discharged from said mortgage and the payment thereof and that a copy of this petition and the decree thereon shall be entered of record in the office of the recorder of deeds of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. Now be it known, that I, William C. McKinley, sheriff of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, do hereby give public notice to all persons interested in said mortgage to appear in said court on Saturday, August 9, 1902, at 10 o'clock to answer said petition and to show cause why the proper decree should not be granted and the said mortgage satisfied of record.

PIG IRON RISES FIVE DOLLARS FOR NEXT YEAR

Tennessee Company Opens Its Books for Delivery Early in 1903.

BIG TRADE AT ADVANCE

Young Gates Intimates That the July Corn Deal Is Still Alive—Truce Between Pennsylvania Railroad and the Goulds.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 21.—It was announced today that the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, the largest producer of pig iron in the south, had opened its books for orders for pig iron calling for delivery in 1903 on a basis of $17 a ton, No. 2 foundry, Birmingham. The company produces between 600,000 and 800,000 tons of pig iron a year. The price established compares with $12 a ton agreed upon by the furnaces of the south for delivery during the current year.

If the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company produces the same quantity of pig iron next year as during the current year, its gross sales in 1903 will exceed those of 1902 by about $3,500,000. Considerable tonnage calling for delivery this year will be carried over into next year. The company is not considering orders calling for delivery in the latter half of next year, although it has been given many opportunities to do so.

Notwithstanding the big advance in the price of pig iron as compared with last year, orders are reported to be coming in rapidly, and a number of the furnaces are sold well up into the first half of next year. An iron manufacturer today said there is very little iron available for immediate delivery. Sheet iron is in great demand around $20 a ton, Birmingham. He added that the capacity of the blast furnaces is inadequate to the capacity of the finishing mills.

"Should the furnaces run for the rest of the year without interruption," said he, "they would fall far short of supplying the wants of the finishing mills."

Corn Deal Not Yet Closed.

Charles G. Gates, who is a general partner in the brokerage firm of Harris, Gates & Co., returned from Chicago this morning. His father, John W. Gates, who is a special partner in the firm, is expected to return later this week and will go at once to Saratoga for the season.

"Is there anything new regarding the July corn deal?" was asked.

"No, there is nothing new; that is, I mean there is not going to be any new corn."

Mr. Gates left the impression in the mind of his questioner that the July corn deal is not yet fully closed, and should large supplies fail to reach Chicago the shorts may yet be treated to a lively time.

Delay in the Steel Bond Case.

Steel stocks were not materially affected by the news from Trenton that the expected conference of the court of errors in the United States Steel Corporation bond conversion case, which was to have been held today, had been postponed until September 15. The delay was caused by the absence of a number of the members of the court. This is the Berger suit, which is distinct from the last suit, the leading plaintiff in which is David Lamberton, who decided by Chancellor Emery, on June 18, against the company and appealed. The postponement has the effect of enjoining further action in the conversion of $200,000,000 preferred stock into bonds. The stockholders' meeting of the Steel Corporation, which was to have been held in Hoboken today to vote on the bond conversion plan, was again adjourned without action. In regard to the postponement of the conference a representative of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. said he believed action would be taken before September 15.

Truce With the Wabash.

The sharp rise in the shares of the Wabash and Pennsylvania railroads was due to the report that powerful interests have succeeded in bringing about a settlement of the strife between the Pennsylvania and Gould people. The possibility of the friction existing between these interests becoming an open and determined fight has hung as a menace over the securities of these two railroads ever since it was first announced that the Goulds intended to extend their system of railroads from Pitisburgh through to the seaboard.

It was learned today that several of the most powerful interests in the "street" have been quietly working for some time toward harmonizing the relations existing between the two interests representing the Wabash and Pennsylvania. It was a noticeable fact that much of the buying in Pennsylvania today was by those already identified with the management of the company, and that buying in Wabash was mainly from Gould sources.

Investments in Pennsy.

Interests identified with the Pennsylvania do not attribute the recent advance in the stock of that company to the reports which have been circulated regarding its absorption of the Reading. It is pointed out that during the last three years Pennsylvania has authorized and vested nearly $100,000,000 of stock. With the enormous amount of other securities which have been issued during the same period, it has necessarily taken some time for this additional stock to be digested. During the last 12 months, however, there has been a constant absorption of Pennsylvania stock by investors and the floating stock has been largely reduced. This has enabled bull interests in Pennsylvania to move the stock more easily, and the recent advance is claimed to be simply the working of the stock toward the level of its actual worth. Good judges of value, and among them some generally regarded as New York Central insiders, have said the movement of the past few days tended to get rid of one of the anomalies of the stock exchange, as they regarded Pennsylvania, although selling below New York Central, as actually worth considerably more money than the latter.

Fight for Colorado Control.

The notices of the annual meeting of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company are accompanied by a request to stockholders who cannot personally attend to send their proxies to S. I. Heyn, assistant secretary, at Denver. The annual meeting of the company will be held in Denver on August 20. The Harris-Gates interests are soliciting proxies in the interests of the Mitchell-Blair-Gates faction in Colorado Fuel & Iron. At the office of Gates & Co. today it was said that proxies were coming in rapidly and that everything pointed to their securing control of the property at the next meeting.

D. G. Reid, formerly president of the American Tin Plate Company, and once a strong factor in the Moore party, is spoken of in connection with the presidency of the company.

The general opinion in financial, as well as steel, circles, is that Mr. Gates has not yet secured control of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, but that his prospects of doing so are good. The Osgood party claims absolute control and say they intend to hold it. The question of control is not expected to be definitely determined until the next meeting.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—An English syndicate has bonded the Sisson copper mine in Shasta county, California, for $1,000,000. Fino, in the Clear creek district, has been bought by Englishmen for $12,500. It is a quartz proposition.

The Black Cloud and Gold Hill group at Wall Street, Col., has been transferred to Boston capitalists for $100,000. The property consists of 17 mines and prospects and experts report the ore in sight to be worth $280,000.

One of the richest consignments of ore sent out of Cripple Creek this year was by a leaser on the Davenport workings of the Jack Pot. It consisted of five sacks weighing 300 pounds, and valued at $7 a pound. It was mined from an original pocket 2 feet 6 inches wide, the same locality from which $1,000,000 was taken several years ago.

Leasers on the Amity, on St. Kevin mountain, Leadville, Col., have broken into a two foot wide that averages $100 to the ton, while picked samples run $120 and 7,000 ounces silver.

A fine strike is reported in the Merchant, Yavapai county, Ariz. It is a five-foot ore body in the south drift of the 240-foot level. Three feet is good milling ore, assaying $15 a ton, and the other two feet runs $75 without sorting.

The Metal Markets.

There were no features in the metal markets today, either at home or abroad, beyond the weakness of the foreign situation as depicted in the general declines. The London tin list fell £2 5s 6d from spot and $1 on futures, the former closing at £128 12s 6d and the latter at £126 5s. Locally, spot was some 15 points lower on both the inside and asked prices closing at $28 80@29 00. A few sales of spot at $28 85 were reported.

Copper locally ruled very dull and was unchanged on most grades. Standard, spot to August $11 05@11 65; value, $11 05@12 05; electrolytic, $11 00@11 40; and casting, $11 75@11 85. A decline of 2s 6d on shot and 5s 9d in the price of futures, occurred at London, where final prices were £53 and £53 2s 6d respectively. Locally there was no change in the price of lead, at $4 12½. London declined 1s 3d, closing at £11 2s 6d. Spelter also was lowered today, closing at £19, at a decline of 2s 6d. Here the market ruled firm and unchanged at 5¾c. The English iron markets were partially higher, with Glasgow closing at 56s 6d and Middlesboro at 51s 3d. The local market was steady and unchanged. Warrants nominal: No. 1 foundry, northern, $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@22 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $22 00@23 00.

REALIZATION STOPS ADVANCE IN THE MARKET

Pennsylvania Still Big Leader, but Closes the Day With Slight Decline.

GOLD GOING TO EUROPE

Shipment of $1,000,000 is Scheduled for Today—London Becomes a Heavy Seller—Industrials Are Generally Dull and Neglected.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York July 21.—There were various demonstrations of strength in individual stocks today, but the sustaining force of these advances was taken advantage of on every occasion to sell other stocks for the purpose of realizing profits. This was effected without any notable damage to prices, owing to the judicious and careful manner in which the market was fed. In the last half hour of the market, however, when it became known that arrangements had been made for a shipment of $1,000,000 gold to Europe tomorrow, the whole market turned downward and closed active and easy.

Not much was lost of earlier gains in any case, and Pennsylvania, which was the conspicuous leader of the early market, closed at a small net loss. The early strength of this stock was attributed to the supposed acquirement of Reading, but the other subsidiary companies failed to participate, Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western being among the weak stocks for the day.

Realization in Coalers.

The decision of the coal miners' convention against a general strike was anticipated with certainty, and the large buying of last week of the soft coal carriers was on that account. The heavy realizing of the day was doubtless on the ground that all the good news concerning these stocks for the present has been published. Among western railroads the active speculation shifted to Missouri Pacific, Atchison & St. Louis Southwestern. Reports of weather favorable to the crops was the continuing influence upon these stocks, but it failed to effect the price of other stocks which would be equally benefitted by good crops. Old rumors were revived of a closer relation between St. Louis Southwestern and Chicago & Eastern Illinois. The reports of damage by floods in the western states were ignored. The industrials were idle and neglected. The failure of the judicial conference, which was expected to take up the appeal in the case against the United States Steel stock conversion plan, may have been an influence in killing interest in those stocks.

London Sells Heavily.

London was quite a heavy seller of stocks this morning here, and was itself a sufferer from liquidation from Paris of accounts in South Africans. This train of events was doubtless what precipitated the shipment of gold by tomorrow's steamer. The announcement comes as a sprinkling of a surprise nevertheless as sterling exchange at Paris recovered a fraction today. But the entire relaxation of pressure from western points upon New York for currency and the continued disbursements by the government in excess of receipts have resulted in such easy conditions of the local call money market that the specie became easily available and the shipment proved a cheaper method to remit than the purchase of exchange, which has hugged the gold export point for a week or more.

There was an easier tendency in the bond market, which shows rather a notable lack of investment demand. Total sales, par value, $2,765,000. United States old 4s regular declined ½ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 906,900 shares.

Pennsylvania was dealt in to the extent of 77,100 shares and closed at a slight loss.

Industrials were practically neglected.

London becomes a heavy seller, and a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold is to be made today.

The decision of the anthracite miners was too thoroughly discounted to affect the market.

No attention is paid by speculators to the western flood news.

United States Steel closed at a fractional decline.

Earnings and Dividends.

The net earnings of Missouri Pacific for May increased $60,000.

The earnings of Big Four for the second week in July decreased $20,000.

Earnings Rio Grande Southern for the second week of July increased $3,301. From July 1 they increased $5,315.

The gross earnings of Louisville & Nashville for the second week in July increased $76,000. Southern railway for the same week increased $64,000.

The Boston & Montana Company has declared a dividend of $2 per share, the same as declared April 21 last. The previous dividend was $5, declared December 2, 1901.

For the first four months of the new fiscal year of the General Electric Company the net earnings above expenses amounted to $2,753,524. The earnings for detail were as follows: Sales, $10,175,378; royalties and sundry profits $77,448; interest, dividends and discounts, $186,670; profit on sales of treasury stock, $246,134; total income, $10,685,630; cost of manufacturing and selling, $7,891,706; net earnings, $2,793,924. As the company is sold ahead, it is expected that the net earnings for the current fiscal year will be $7,500,000. Applying the capital stock as increased ($42,031,900) to these estimated earnings, the new stock is found to be earning at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

For the six months from January 1 to June 30, 1902, the gross earnings of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad were $10,839,374, an increase of $1,088,317 over the first six months of the previous year. The operating expenses during that period were $7,997,025, an increase of $842,767. The net results from operation during the six months were $2,842,349, compared with $245,526 during the same period last year. The interest on bonds, rentals, etc., was $1,917,457, an increase of $182,301. Profits for the half year ending June 30 were $924,864, which is an increase of $65,225 over the first six months of the preceding year. The gross earnings of the company for the month of June were $1,884,111, an increase of $244,310 over the same month last year. Operating expenses during the month were $1,342,303, an increase of $188,150, as compared with June, 1901. The net results from operation were $491,808, an increase of $56,160. Interest on bonds, rentals, etc., was $93,976, an increase of $1,666 over the month of June, 1901. The profits for the month were $157,832, an increase of $54,493.

Fire Proofing Common Reacted a Fraction on Small Sales—Pittsburgh Coal Common Was Heavily Sold, But Yielded Only an Eighth.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was broader than it has been in some time, but not quite so active as during the closing sessions of last week. As a rule the tone was firm and a majority of the changes in value show increases. There was, however, an absence of anything sensational and hardly any one issue was more prominent than another. The steel shares were rather quiet, but generally manifested an inclination to work toward a higher level. Crucible Steel common was firmer at 21½ for 500 shares, a gain of ½, and at the close 21¼ was bid for large blocks. The preferred was less active, but closed firm and unchanged at 85½. United States Steel common sold a little over 300 shares at 40¾@41, closing at the top, which was an advance of ⅛. The preferred was very dull at 90¾ for a small lot, the price being an advance of ¼. Some time ago a gentleman addressed a note to the financial editor of The Gazette upon the merits of Crucible Steel, which met with some very favorable comment. The same writer has now taken up the United States Steels and his ideas may be of interest in connection with the current movements of the stocks. This gentleman says:

"The field of criticism seems to be centered upon the policy of the United States Steel Corporation against the proposed issue of bonds. Some writers, who probably know more about other businesses than they do about the steel business and its future, are seriously questioning this policy. The policy that the United States Steel Corporation is following is precisely the same that the Standard Oil company followed—they bought or paid a good price for a competitor's property and trade, and in a great many instances dismantled the plant, concentrated the refineries, reduced the cost of production and cheapened the price to the consumer. The United States Steel Corporation now practically controls the visible supply of ore and produces 75 per cent of the steel and iron in the country and are earning 13 per cent on their capital, with good prospects of largely increasing this, after they get through enlarging their scrap pile. The question of overcapitalization does not cut any figure at the present time, as they are paying dividends and creating a larger surplus fund, and so far as the future is concerned they will probably continue to pay dividends long after some others have ceased to exist. Now-a-days it is not a question of capital, but of earning powers and future prospects. This is no doubt the steel period. The field opens up new uses for steel every day and the consumption of steel is not entirely confined to this country, as some of the critics seem to have overlooked. The Americans have invaded Europe and London is now being Americanized, also the great developments in South Africa, the bulk of which will, no doubt, be furnished by this country. The financiering of the United States Steel Corporation was not undertaken upon a cash basis. Most all of the companies entering the combine accepted bonds or stock. If they can borrow money for 5 per cent and make 30 per cent profit out of it and continue the dividends it is a much better policy for the stockholders then taking it out of the surplus. When the United States Steel Corporation cannot earn a handsome profit it will be a very chilly day for most everybody else in this country, and when these bonds expire 50 years hence the present stockholders and critics will not be here, so we need not borrow any trouble about what will happen when the bonds expire. What the stockholders want are dividends and some concern, who are questioning the dividend policy had better get into the push or cancel the stock by the purchase of that they sold to the public."

In the general list there was not a great deal doing. American Window Glass common was dull and a shade easier, though unchanged at 62. The preferred advanced ½ to 93¾. Fire Proofing issues were also rather dull and the common lost ⅛ at 31½. Pittsburgh Coal common was quite active, 900 shares selling at 25⅜@25½, but the price only yielded ⅛ at the close. The preferred was not dealt in. River Coal preferred was unchanged. Bank and trust shares were generally firm, but quiet, the feature being an advance of $1 in Federal National bank, which sold at 136. Electric seconds were firmer and somewhat more active at 104 @104½. A block of 500 Manufacturers' Light and Heat was taken by an insider at 70, a decline of ½. The other sales were unimportant. Bonds were quiet but firm.

A meeting of the board of appeals of the Pittsburgh stock exchange has been called for today at 11 a. m. This is the first time this body has been called together.

President Ripley of the Atchison railroad will not affirm or deny the report that the company is negotiating for the purchase of control of the Oceanic Steamship Company.

Sproul & Co. continue to buy Pittsburgh Coal common, disposing of 800 shares yesterday, of which Hill & Co. got 700; Hill & Co. also secured 100 more from Barbour.

Great Western officials say it is simply a matter of getting enough cars to handle the company's traffic from now on. Farmers are offering big inducements to attract men to the fields to help.

In Chicago it is generally believed President W. H. Baldwin, Jr., Chairman R. R. Cable of the Rock Island will retire within a year. There is nothing official from them, but everybody seems to have the impression.

The conference of members of the court of errors and appeals on the United States Steel case, which was expected to occur yesterday morning, will not be held. Counsel received notice that it was impossible to assemble the court. No new date was set.

James J. Hyde, vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is one of the directors of the Mellon National bank. At the next monthly meeting the board of directors of the Union Savings bank of Pittsburg will be elected a member and will, also, be added to the board of directors of the Union Trust Company at the annual meeting in January.

We were in conversation with a gentleman who has been traveling through the south and he finds abundant prosperity and disposition to buy stocks rather than bonds, and if only a matter of a short time before this disposition is apt to crystalize into positive action, and all that will be further necessary will be a continuance of the strong market that we have withheld during the past 10 days.—Lounsbery.

The renewed pool manipulation in Missouri Pacific brought out buying orders in St. Louis & Southwestern.

There was undoubtedly heavy realizing in some stocks yesterday, Pennsylvania and Chesapeake & Ohio noticeably so.

I hear some very bullish talk on American Car and Foundry common and also hear that Locomotive common will get a move on.

I think Brooklyn, Colorado Southern second preferred, Great Western common and St. Louis & Southwestern common are a purchase on reactions.

We hardly think the general swing is over yet, and it is more than likely that tomorrow and Wednesday purchases by some of the profit-takers today.

In the afternoon, on the engagement of about a million gold for export, the New York market sold off slightly, closing in many stocks at the lowest prices.

London was a heavy seller, particularly in the soft coal stocks. The sales also included Atchison, Chesapeake & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and United States Steel common and preferred.

A Chicago telegram says: It comes from recognized authority that the Gates party are chairmen of Colorado Fuel and Iron and will elect their own people to the directory. At this time D. G. Reid seems to be slated for president of the Company.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The new week in the drygoods market has opened quietly and so far without developments of moment. Second hands report that buyers from the far west are beginning to arrive for the fall campaign and at present occupy their time looking at new collections. Outside of this the market is quiet.

BOROUGH SUES ENGINEER TO RECOVER PLANS

Turtle Creek Alleges Former Employe Refuses to Turn Over Papers.

CONDUCTOR WANTS $5,000

Railroad Workman Asks Damages for Alleged Injuries Received in Central Elevator Co. by Being Thrown Into a Pit.

Mandamus proceedings were begun by the borough of Turtle Creek against S. A. Taylor in common pleas court No. 2. The latter was borough engineer for the year ending March, 1902, and W. A. Clugston was appointed as his successor. It is alleged that, at the end of his term of office, Taylor had in his possession many of the plans of the borough streets, the sewer system and other improvements, which he refused to turn over to his successor. The proceedings are brought to compel him to give up possession of all papers owned by the borough.

Suit was entered by William C. Mohr against the Central Elevator Company for $5,000 damages for personal injuries. The plaintiff says that he was a freight conductor for the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company and on September 23 was assigned to unload some grain in the defendant's grain elevator. He asserts that the floor of the elevator was torn up at the instance of the defendants and was left unguarded. He notified the company of the danger, he says, and it then caused two pieces of scantling to be placed over the opening without making them secure. Later, while unloading the grain, the scantlings turned and he was thrown into the pit, a distance of 15 feet. He says he was seriously injured and has been unable to work since.

The Rev. A. A. Wertenbach Remembered Miss Langan for Her Kind Attentions.

The will of the Rev. Augustus A. Wertenbach of McKeesport was filed for probate in the register's office yesterday. The decedent bequeathed his brothers, Jacob A. and John H. Wertenbach, $10 each, with the following explanation: "I give each $10, recognizing the fact that they are blessed with good fortunes, and are in no need of help from me. To Anna C. Langan is left property in McKeesport; also $2,000 and certain stock." After this the decedent wrote: "The bequests to Miss Langan are made freely and in view of the sacrifices she made for me, especially in caring for me during my long illness." The residue of a $4,200 estate goes for masses.

Decrees in distribution were made as follows: Estates of J. B. Hezlep, $5,320.08; David H. Morris, $15,515; Elizabeth Homann, $1,466 19.

DETECTIVE JONES UP.

Had to Explain an Absence Without Leave.

Detective Harry Jones was before the police board yesterday morning to answer a charge of being absent without leave from the bureau of detectives. He was ill one afternoon last week and remained at home, without notifying Supt. Demmel. The disposition of his case is not known, but it is expected that he will be dismissed with a slight censure.

Director Leslie and Superintendent of Police McAleese said yesterday afternoon that this was the only case before the board. "We have no charges to prefer against Detectives Bernard McStay, Charles McGovern or William Shore," said Director Leslie. "Detective Shore is ill at his home and is guilty of no violations, that we know of. These officers will not be disturbed and we have no intention of dispensing with their services."

INDIANA COUNTY SHERIFF IS ANGRY

SOLD HORSES TO DIRECTOR BIGELOW AND HAS NOT BEEN PAID.

It Is Sixteen Months Since the Sale Was Made, and One of the Horses Is Dead—Created a Hot Time While Visiting City Hall.

Sheriff D. E. Thompson of Indiana county wants the money for his horses. There were four of them. One of them has since died. Councils have juggled with the bill at various times. City Recorder J. O. Brown says the bill ought to be paid. Sheriff Thompson says it ought to be paid. Controller John B. Larkin, who, by the way, has the last say, says that he will investigate the claim, and if it is just he will pay it. Meanwhile Sheriff Thompson talks of entering suit against the city. The sergeant, who stalks city hall corridor in full uniform, has been instructed to keep Sheriff Thompson from moving in and living there. Controller Larkin has asked Director J. Guy McCandless to give him a list of all the horses owned by the department of public works.

The horses were purchased 16 months ago by Edward M. Bigelow when he was director of public works. The animals were purchased from Sheriff Thompson. They cost $251 25 each, and at the time were said to be cheap at the price. Good horses cost money then. It was charged against Director Bigelow at that time that he had no authority to buy the horses, that councils had not given him permission.

Director Only Laughed.

This objection was so absurd under the provisions of the old charter that the director forgot to reply and only laughed. The horses were turned over to the bureau of highways and sewers, and did good work until July 4 last, when one of them died. Since that time, the other three have not been able to do as much work as the entire four did. It is understood, however, that this is not urged against the claim.

There was a great deal of trouble about the horses at that time. The machine-ridden councils bided their time until a warrant resolution was presented asking for the payment of the bill for the horses, and they promptly set upon it in the committee. Every one, except the machine councilmen, at that time admitted that Director Bigelow acted within his authority in buying the horses, which were needed. Sheriff Thompson raved when the committee turned down the bill, but the committee did not see his ravings.

Bill Was Passed.

When the new councils came in, the resolution was promptly introduced again and it finally passed. The reform councils have been prone to go slow on bills, but they promptly passed this one. In due course of time it went to Recorder J. O. Brown, and he promptly signed it. It went to the office of the controller. Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow came to the bill, and held it up.

Sheriff Thompson heard late Saturday night that the warrant for the horses was lying in the controller's office. He came down Sunday night, but was unable to get into the controller's office until this morning, where the messenger found him when he came in to open the office. He had had the first interview with Mr. Morrow, and the air was curdled with Indiana county language for half an hour.

Finally Mr. Morrow told the irate sheriff that he would have to come back again when the controller was in. This was satisfactory. Meanwhile, Controller Larkin had heard about the occurrence.

Fur Flew Again.

The next time the sheriff appeared upon the scene he was met by Controller Larkin. The fur flew again, but it was not the controller's fur.

Director McCandless came in to help the sheriff out. The controller insisted upon knowing whether the horses were ever received, and whether they proved of benefit to the city. The fact that the bill had been turned down by the old councils, and held up for 16 months looked bad, according to the controller's idea of the matter. Some one said the horses were working every day. Controller Larkin asked Superintendent John Battles of the bureau of highways and sewers for information about the horses. Superintendent Battles said three of them are working, but Controller Larkin said he would not pay the bill until he was sure it was proper. Sheriff Thompson then said several sulphurous things, and the controller told him that he would get his money when the bill was carefully investigated, and not before.

If Controller Larkin is ever found in Indiana county by Sheriff Thompson he will be arrested.

ANNUAL INSPECTION REPORT.

Greater Efficiency Shown by Third Regiment, Boys' Brigade of America.

The commanding colonel of the Third regiment of the United Boys' Brigade of America has just submitted his official report of the annual inspection of the several companies of thhe regiment.

The total averages are as follows: Company A, 95.2; Company C, 88.3; Company F, 94.8; Company G, 98.8; Company K, 90.5; Company H, 98; Company T, 88, and Company B, 86. These figures show greater efficiency in the companies than ever before.

While the regiment is smaller in numbers than on some previous inspections, in equipment, discipline, and appearance, it stands higher than in any former inspection.

STOP THE LEAK.

Save the Dollar You Spend Thoughtlessly.

It isn't a large amount—you'll scarcely miss it—but a dollar deposited regularly every week with the Pennsylvania Trust Company, at 4 per cent interest, soon grows to be a handsome sum. Try it. 410 Smithfield street is the location.

NEW EAST END CHURCH PLANNED TO COST $60,000

Site Is Already in the Hands of First Unitarian Congregation.

ANOTHER NEW MISSION

Third United Presbyterian Congregation Will Erect Building With All Modern Devices in McKees Rocks for Its Mission.

The trustees of the First Unitarian church, Craig street, of which the Rev. L. W. Mason is pastor, have decided to erect one of the handsomest church edifices in the city at the corner of Ellsworth and Morewood avenues, at a total cost of $60,000. The deed for this site has been delivered to the trustees for $40,000. Mr. Mason states that the work of excavating for the new building will commence next month, and the edifice is expected to be under roof by the early part of October.

The congregation proposes to hold first services in the new edifice not later than the latter part of November. The plans and specifications are almost completed. The church will be built of brick and stone and will be fitted out in the most modern manner.

The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 600 and there will be spacious rooms fitted out for Sunday school and entertainment purposes, also a gymnasium for the young people. Mr. Mason has in the neighborhood of 75 children in his congregation, and proposes to have every convenience for them in the new edifice.

The site of the present church was purchased some time ago by Bishop Phelan for $60,000 and is to be used for the erection of a parochial school in that district when the new Cathedral parish is formed.

Another church structure that will be erected soon is the McKees Rocks mission of the Third United Presbyterian church, the Rev. J. T. McCrory pastor. The church is to be erected at a cost of $10,000. Dr. McCrory is an advocate of the strenuous life and proposes to have the young men and women attached to the mission exercise during the coming winter months.

To that end he has instructed the architects to include in the general design a spacious apartment to be used as a gymnasium. This will be fully equipped, and in addition to the regular apparatus there will be a large swimming pool. There will be, also, reading and recreation rooms, making it one of the best equipped mission churches in this state. It is said that this will be the only mission church in the state having such features. There are 20 families connected with the church.

WILL LAY DUST ALONG CAR LINES

PITTSBURGH RAILWAYS CO. INTRODUCES UNIQUE SPRINKLERS.

The Machines Run With a Swish, to Which Horses Will Have to Become Accustomed—Traction People Meet the Cost.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company has undertook the task of keeping down the dust on the streets which its lines traverse. A test of two machines for this purpose was made yesterday. Dr. J. G. McCandless watching it. Four additional sprinklers will be used by the traction company.

The railways company furnishes the sprinklers with men to operate them, and the city supplies the water and hydrant connections. The sprinklers out yesterday are immense iron tanks built by J. G. Brill & Co., Philadelphia, at a cost of $5,500 each. The tanks have a capacity of 4,000 gallons each.

Unlike any trolley or other sprinkler ever seen here, the water is forced out by electricity. On the side of each tank is a motor in an iron box, which compresses air in the tank and forces water out of the nozzles when the latter are opened. On each end of the tank is a volt meter showing the pressure at all times.

Second Vice President S. L. Tone and General Superintendent John Murphy of the railways company, who have been working with Director McCandless for dustless streets, were pleased with the trial trips of the two sprinklers. The sprinklers are equipped with power, track and hand brakes. The current is supplied to the motors underneath each tank through a trolley pole on top, as on the regular cars.

Because of the size of the tanks and the noise, caused by the swish of the water, teamsters and horse owners are warned to hold their horses in check while the sprinklers are passing.

FOR HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

Frederick Baux and Frederick Harper Held in $1,000 Bail Each for Court.

Frederick Baux, 28 years old, and Frederick Harper, aged 18, were held for court yesterday by Justice of the Peace A. W. McMillan of Carnegie on two charges of highway robbery, under $1,000 bail each.

At the hearing Charles Suskowski of Bulger, Washington county, said that more than a week ago he was walking on the road at Bower Hill, near Carnegie, and that two men set upon him and robbed him of $31 60. Isidore Abramowitz of Pittsburgh swore that on last Thursday he was in Chartiers cemetery and that in sight of a funeral party Harper and Baux knocked him down and robbed him. They were seen and a party of men pursued them; but they dropped their booty and escaped.

The two men were recognized and the Carnegie police were notified. On Friday they were seen together by Chief of Police Foster of Carnegie and Constable Jacob Streitenberger, who gave chase. Baux was captured, but Harper got away. On Saturday Streitenberger caught Harper in Main street, Carnegie.

R·I·PANS

I am employed in a large department store, and am naturally a dyspeptic. In such a place there are all kinds of suggestions given, and among them quite a number suggested Ripans Tabules as a positive cure. At last I decided to use them, and I am very thankful to the people who suggested them, for since I have been using them, which is now about four months, I have not been ailing during the day or in the evening, as I did before.
